Sen. Percy, Wife Escape Red Shells

SORROWFUL PARTING. Capt. J. Treasure Jones, master of the Queen Mary, breaks into tears during playing of Auld Lang Syne moments after he turned over the registry of the Queen Mary to the British Consul General Monday at Long Beach Calif., thereby removing the giant liner from the records as a sea-going vessel. SAIGON (AP) — Sen. Charles Percy, his wife and seven other Americans escaped injury today when Communist gunners opened up with mortars and small arms during a spur-of-the-moment, unescorted visit the Illinois Republican made to the devastated village of Dakson.

Some of the five mortar rounds crashed within 15 to 20 feet of the 48-year-old senator, who is a potential Republican presidential candidate, and four men inspecting the village with him, but no one was hit. The group took cover, and Percy got some small scratches on his arms as he crawled behind some wood huts.

Mrs. Percy had remained in the group's helicopter 75 yards away with the pilot and two crewmen. They flew her to a nearby town and returned with an escort of armed Army choppers to rescue the senator and his companions.

"This is closer to action than I got in three years of World War II," Percy, a U.S. Navy veteran, told a news conference after he returned to Saigon.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Command announced that 471 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese regulars—the equivalent of a battle-ready battalion — were killed in a six-day battle that ended Monday along the narrow coastal plains near the pivotal town of Bong Son.

Allied casualties were 33 Americans and 30 South Vietnamese soldiers killed and 147 Americans and 71 South Vietnamese wounded.

The battle erupted when two companies of the helicopter-borne U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division began a sweep of the scrub land along the coast about 300 miles north-northeast of Saigon. Just to the north a battalion from the South Vietnamese 40th Infantry Regiment was pushing south.

Both allied groups ran into fortifications manned by the seasoned 22nd Regiment of the North Vietnamese 3rd Division.

Over the next six days the allied troops pushed forward, then pulled back while planes, artillery and helicopter gunships pounded the enemy over a five-mile stretch of the coast.

The Communists made a final stand in the fortified village of Truong Lam, which was overrun Monday. In it the cavalrymen found about 60 new graves in which the Reds had hastily tried to conceal some of their dead.

Many more of the veteran Communist troops evidently slipped away to the south.

The battle on the Bong Son plain was the latest in a series of stand-and-fight engagements provoked in recent days by American and South Vietnamese sweep operations. Otherwise, the Communist troops have stuck mainly to hit-and-run attacks except along the borders of Cambodia and Laos, where shorter supply lines enable them to make more large-scale assaults.

A pattern of widespread small skirmishes was repeated in today's war communique from U.S. headquarters. Air action in the north was again hampered by monsoon rains, but some improvement permitted 101 combat missions, the largest number in three weeks.

Percy, frequently mentioned as a possible Republican presidential candidate, had some time to spare after a visit to a resettlement village and asked the pilot of his chartered white helicopter to give him a look at Dakson, near the Cambodian border, where the Viet Cong massacred an estimated 200 Montagnard tribesmen last week.

The senator said he had asked that he be given no military escort for any of his field trips and the thought of an attack "never really occurred to me."

"We circled the village five or six times," Percy said," there seemed to be no sign of life so we took the chopper in."

Leaving Mrs. Percy in the helicopter with the pilot, and two crewmen, the rest of the party got out and walked about 75 or 100 yards into the village.

Percy had a .38-caliber snug-nosed revolver and Dennis Smith, a U.S. refugee official, carried a rifle.

The attack broke just as Percy was emerging from one of the bunkers in which many of the Montagnard tribesmen were trapped in the Viet Cong raid Dec. 5.

The helicopter flew Mrs. Percy to nearby Song Be and returned within 20 minutes, escorted by four or five other 'copters. "That thing took off so fast we didn't have time to fasten our seat belts," the senator said.

Accompanying Percy, his wife and Smith were Scott Cohen, Percy's foreign affairs advisor, Fred Ward of Look magazine, and Kenneth Schmid, a friend of the senator from Chicago.

House Votes $4.1 Billion Funds Cut

Passes Bill To Hike Postal Rates, Pay Boost For Workers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress appears certain to okay hefty pay boosts for federal workers at virtually the same time it approves a $4.1 billion cut in federal spending.

In Monday action on separate measures:

—The House voted 366 to 26 for a measure to slash spending $4.1 billion this fiscal year, sending the administration-backed bill to the Senate where speedy acceptance is predicted.

—The House sent to the Senate on a 326-62 vote a measure that would boost the salaries of postal workers 6 per cent and of other federal workers 4.5 per cent. The bill also provides for additional pay hikes on July 1 next year and July 1, 1969 at an eventual annual cost of $2.7 billion.

—The pay bill includes proposed increases in postal rates that would raise first-class stamps from 5 to 6 cents and air mail stamps from 8 to 10 cents.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he anticipated no difficulties in speeding the spending cut measure to the White House, which called for the slashes as part of a proposal for a 10 per cent surcharge on personal and corporate income taxes.

The administration advocated the budget cuts in hopes of persuading Congress to approve the tax boost but there's no chance of action on taxes before next year's session.

The bill approved would require federal agencies to cut personnel costs by 2 per cent and other controllable expenditures by 10 per cent.

The action came shortly before the House vote to raise salaries of federal workers more than 10 per cent over the next 19 months.

Congress itself would be exempted from the economy drive it is ordering for most other federal agencies. The federal judi-

Senate OKs $14 Billion School Aid

Segregated School Funds Still Key As Conferees Get Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — An administration pledge to revise procedures for cutting off funds to segregated schools spurred Senate passage of the 14.2 billion federal aid-to-education bill.

The 71-7 Senate vote Monday sent the measure to a conference with the House, where further attempts to water down antisgregation procedures are expected.

Southern senators dropped stalling tactics and permitted final action on the measure—largest aid-to-education authorization in history—once the pledge arrived in a letter from Secretary John W. Gardner of the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

Democratic leaders said they hoped a quick conference could be held on it and a compromise version sent to President Johnson before Congress adjourns for the year, probably at the end of this week.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., manager of the bill, told reporters it was particularly important to act on the bill because it changes the formula for distribution in the current year of grant funds under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary School Act.

About $1.2 billion of federal money is being made available to school districts over the nation under Title I for the present year. It covers aid to improve educational opportunities for children of low-income families.

The main provisions of the bill would extend for three years, starting next July 1, the authorizations for aid under all sections of the Elementary and Secondary School Act.

Extended for the same period

Would Extend Funds Over 2 Years

$4.16 Billion Poverty Bill Waits LBJ's Signature

WASHINGTON (AP) — Antipoverty boss Sargent Shriver has congressional authorization to spend $4.16 billion over two years—but his agency may wind up with far less money.

The bill sent Monday to the White House represents the most money ever authorized for the Office of Economic Opportunity, which Shriver heads, and marks the first time Congress has extended the program for more than one year.

But just after House passage of the bill, a House Appropriations subcommittee recommended that only $1.612 billion be provided to foot the antipoverty bill in the first year, compared with the $1.98 billion authorized.

Another $2.18 billion was authorized for fiscal 1969 but because Congress only appropriates on an annual basis, the question of how much money actually will be available for the second year isn't at issue now.

The full Appropriations Committee was expected to uphold the subcommittee cut at a meeting today. The House appeared likely to go along with it later in the day.

The bill includes a controversial provision giving local public officials control of the OEO's Community Action programs.

Opponents of the move say it will breed vote-buying and patronage in city halls, and Shriver has pledged to keep close watch on results of the change.

Supporters of the antipoverty program pinned their hopes for more money on the Senate, where it has had a more sympathetic reception. Should the Senate approve full financing of $1.98 billion, the outcome could be a compromise of about $1.78 billion.

That's the minimum amount Shriver said would be needed to keep the program at its present level.

The authorization measure cleared the House on a 246-149 vote. Listed for it were 183 Democrats and 63 Republicans. Opposing it were 51 Democrats and 98 Republicans. The Senate passed it last Friday.

Gas Rate Placed On First Reading

An ordinance providing for a new four - year agreement with the Ohio Valley Gas Co. and allowing the utility a rate increase averaging out to 12.3 per cent was given the first of three required readings by City Council at a special meeting Monday night.

Councilman Frank P. Duffy opposed the measure on each of three customary motions in the legislative process. Councilman Norman Bucher supported the measure on the first two motions, but voted "no" at the point that would have permitted immediate enactment under suspension of rules.

THAT MEANT, if the present vote alignment continues unchanged, that the ordinance must be given two more readings before it can be voted into law. "Yes" votes on all three motions were cast last night by Councilman Floyd Murray, Donna Richards Wilson, James Lowe, Harold Maylone and Robert W. Sample. Six affirmative votes would have been required for immediate enactment.

Maylone, Murray and Lowe comprise the Council planning committee, wich worked out the agreement in five months of negotiations with the utility that began last July.

Maylone, the committee chairman, said the ordinance will be placed on second reading at the regular meeting next Monday night. If it fails to pass at that time under suspension of rules, a special session will be scheduled before the end of the year to give it third reading, he added. The ordinance will die if it is not enacted before Dec. 31, the end of the current Council biennium. That would mean the legislative process would have to be started all over again by the new Council.

DUFFY MADE his first comment in opposition to the ordinance when it was called for first reading.

Says Move To Back Single Contender Could Hurt Unity

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says a move now by Republican governors to line up behind a single contender for the GOP presidential nomination could rupture their unity.

He said the governors are "doing the only good thing they could do" to preserve unity by concentrating on potential campaign issues rather than getting involved in endorsing someone for the nomination.

Rockefeller sharply disputed Monday the assertion of Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., that the 26 GOP governors made a mistake and sacrificed their influence on the presidential nomination by failing to agree on a candidate during their meeting last week in Palm Beach, Fla.

"You mean like the Republicans in Congress?" the New York governor said. "Have the Republicans in Congress taken a position on a candidate?"

Laird acknowledged the party's House leadership has not picked one man to back. He said it's for the 1968 candidate who could be most effective in helping to win congressional seats.

Essex Outlines Education Plan To Make Ohio No. 1

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Martin W. Essex outlined a seven-pronged program to make Ohio the leading state in education at his formal inauguration Monday night as Ohio's 31st superintendent of public instruction.

"We have all the ingredients —the basic elements—to lead the way in this nation to a new standard of excellence that the citizenry seeks and demands," Essex told a gathering of 1,500 at the State Expositions Center.

The affair was called "Education Harvest Night," and was attended by educators, legislators, Gov. James A. Rhodes and other state officials.

Essex took over his post July 1, 1966, when E. E. Holt retired, and Monday night's induction ceremony was in recognition of the new superintendent's achievements, it was explained.

Essex's proposals "to better serve Ohio" included the formation of an urban education commission and the appointment of an assistant superintendent to work "in the area of this American frontier."

Bettis Names Clark As One Of Assistants

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis today announced the appointment of Richard J. Clark, 42, East Liverpool attorney, as a special assistant, effective Jan. 1.

Clark, as assistant city solicitor, has served as Municipal Court prosecutor since 1958.

He was born in East Liverpool and was graduated from Kent State University and the Ohio Northern University Law School. Admitted to the Ohio bar in 1951, he joined his father, G. Jay Clark, who practiced law here from 1917 until his death in 1961.

The new assistant was an Army Air Corps veteran of World War II. He and his wife, Dolores, have two sons—Richard J., 12, and John W., 8.

Bettis said Clark and the two other special assistants — Du-

Man Receives Jail Term, Youth Seeks Probation

Rodney E. Gilkinson, 22, of the Cannons Mills Rd. and David J. Cunningham, 19, of 114 E. 2nd St. pleaded guilty Monday in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon to charges of malicious destruction of property and petty larceny.

Judge Joel H. Sharp ordered Gilkinson to serve concurrent sentences of 30 days in the County Jail on the first count and 90 days on the second, but gave him credit for time in jail since Oct. 1.

Cunningham asked for probation and the court ordered a pre-sentence investigation and report. The youth was released on his own recognizance.

Before entering their pleas, the defendants waived the right to have the charges considered by the grand jury and asked the court to let them proceed on facts of the case as presented by the prosecutor.

They had been charged with felonies — destruction of property worth more than $100 and the theft of property worth more than $60 in tearing a telephone and coin box from the wall at the Patterson - Wetzel Cleaners on Walnut St. Oct. 1 and taking it from the building.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis accepted the defendants' offer to plead guilty to misdemeanors — destruction of property worth less than $100 and taking property worth less than $60.

together as they never have before," Rockefeller said. "They're doing the only good thing they could do to keep united and that is by concentrating on problems—not people."

Rockefeller for months has urged his fellow Republican governors to align behind the candidacy of Michigan Gov. George Romney. He said if that becomes possible, fine. "If they can't—let's be realistic," the New Yorker said.

"The more united we are on the platform, the more effective we'll be on anything else," Rockefeller told newsmen after a meeting of the Republican Coordinating Committee.

Rhode Island Gov. John H. Chafee, also a Romney supporter, said the GOP governors will be a powerful factor in the selection of a nominee.

"They will have a great deal of influence with the various delegations," Chafee said.

"I think it was obvious right from the beginning that you weren't going to have unanimity on a candidate," said Gov. Daniel J. Evans of Washington.

Although the governors appear undecided on backing a single candidate, the public's favorite by a decisive margin, the Harris poll reported, is Richard M. Nixon.

The newest survey by Louis Harris, copyrighted by The Washington Post, shows Nixon leading Rockefeller 52 to 33 per cent; Romney, 63 to 24 per cent; and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, 65 to 22 per cent.

But the poll also showed Nixon has slipped behind President Johnson in popularity. In early November Nixon led Johnson 48 to 41 per cent. Now it's Johnson by 47 to 44 per cent.

Nixon, who moved to New York after losing the California gubernatorial election in 1962, attended a major GOP fund-raising affair Monday night for the first time since his move. He was at a dinner in honor of Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, who plans to run as an antiwar candidate in some Democratic presidential primaries, told a Liberty, NY., audience the United States policy in the Middle East is in a vacuum because this nation is so tied up with Vietnam.

He called for a "positive" Mideast policy under which the United States would support and guarantee border adjustments necessary to insure security for Israel.

PTA Will Meet

SALINEVILLE — The Salineville Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association will meet Thursday at 7 p.m. in the school. A Christmas party will be held, with the "History of the Christmas Tree" to be presented by students from the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, Mrs. Millie Lewis, president, said.

Easter Island's only regular contact with the outside world is a supply and mail ship sent once a year by the Chilean Navy, which administers this remote outpost.

Gas Rate

is a 12.33 per cent increase. How can anyone go along to give that much of an increase?

"All the utilities come in every few years and ask for increases. I think the solicitor should go to Columbus and fight this before the Public Utilities Commission. I will vote against it. The potters got a 6 per cent increase. A 12 per cent gas raise will eat that up in a hurry. The average gas bill in East Liverpool now is $25 a month. I can't see how the committee could recommend this."

"I have gone through this same thing a good many times and it's the same old stuff time after time," Sample replied. "If you go to the PUCO you will find that the raise will be higher and that the agreement will be for two years instead of four as we have here. I think our committee was well-qualified and went into this question thoroughly."

"The problem is, as Mr. Duffy says, that everything is going up in price," Maylone said. "It costs everybody more to do business today, including the gas company. I gave Council a report on this a week ago in caucus and I pointed out that the rate agreed to in a downriver community is higher than the rate we will have here in East Liverpool.

"The downriver rate is comparable at the outset to the rates we will pay in the third and fourth years of the East Liverpool agreement," Maylone said. "We went into this at great length and did a lot of research — the committee as well as our former solicitor, Joseph Cooper."

"This whole thing is onesided — just as the company's story," Duffy replied. "Let's take it to Columbus and get both sides of the story."

THEN THE legislation was placed on first reading. Mrs. Wilson moved for suspension of rules, seconded by Maylone, but the move failed because of the "no" votes of Bucher and Duffy. The motion for immediate enactment was supported by Lowe, Maylone, Murray, Sample and Mrs. Wilson.

In a caucus session, J. Michael Kapp, the new city solicitor, told Council he feels the rate ordinance is "fair," based on the information supplied him by the committee and Cooper. Kapp took office Dec. 4, so was not involved in the negotiations with the gas company.

Kapp also reported that Cooper advised him if the city took its case to the PUCO, the board might allow the utility an additional 1 per cent of annual return on its investment, compared with the figures agreed to with the city.

Maylone's figures show the company's return will be 4.10 per cent the first year; 4.35 per cent the second year; 6.30 per cent the third year and 6.60 per cent the fourth year.

Since the legislation does not contain an emergency clause, it will not take effect until 30 days after its enactment by Council. That means, under the present outlook, that it will not be in effect until late January.

IN ALL four years of the new agreement, the first step in the rate schedule calls for a charge of 30 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. The 30-cent charge will apply to the first 1,500 cubic feet a month in the first two years and the first 2,000 cubic feet in the last two years.

The second step in the rate schedule "escalates" gradually over the four years. It is 8.1 cents per 100 for the first year; 8.2 cents in the second year, 8.3 cents per 100 in the third year and 8.4 cents in the fourth year. The third step in the schedule is constant throughout the four years. It sets a rate of 7.1 cents per 100 cubic feet for all gas used in excess of 298,500 cubic feet.

Maylone pointed out that the "fuel cost clause" now in effect will apply to the anticipated rates. The "fuel cost clause" provides for adjustments upward or downward, based on the price Ohio Valley pays to its wholesale supplier.

The increases per month, based on consumption of 15,000 cubic feet of gas, would be $1.32 in the first year, $1.46 in the second year, $2.86 in the third year and $2.81 in the fourth year, he said. However, the "fuel cost clause" adjustment would cut the actual increase to: $1.07 monthly in the first year, $1.21 in the second year, $2.43 in the third year and $2.56 in the fourth year.

THE ANTICIPATED increases per month for customers using 25,000 cubic feet of gas each month would be: $1.86 in the first year, $2.20 in the second year, $3.52 in the third year and $3.75 in the fourth year. Applying the "fuel cost clause," Maylone said the actual anticipated boost would be: $1.43 a month in the first year, $1.77 in the second year, $3.09 in the third year and $3.32 in the fourth year.

As the meeting ended, Council approved a motion from Murray to instruct the ordinance and finance committees to check on the possibility of purchasing an auto for the use of the mayor, the director and Council committees. In that way, the officials would not "have to bother the police department to borrow a car," Murray said.

Spending Cut

Also exempt would be national defense programs, veterans' benefits, Social Security benefits, farm-price supports and health insurance payments.

Based on current estimates, federal spending in the fiscal year ending next June 30 would be $136.2 billion.

Under the postal-pay measure, also expected to win quick Senate approval, postal rates for all classes of mail would go up by next Jan. 7, generating new revenue of $900 million a year once they're all in effect.

The measure also would boost post-card postage from 4 to 5 cents and air mail cards from 6 to 8 cents. The per-piece postal rates for third-class mail would rise from 2.875 cents to 3.5 cents starting next month, then to 4 cents in July 1969. But a 3.8-cent rate would apply to the first 250,000 pieces mailed in any year.

Second-class rates, which cover newspapers and magazines, would jump next year from 1 cent to 1.1 cent under the minimum rate, then to 1.2 cents in 1969 and 1.3 cents in 1970.

Both the pay and postal rate boosts exceed President Johnson's requests but indications are he'll sign the measure.

Boys Await Hearing In Theft Of Car Here

A boy from East Liverpool and one from Chester, both 14 are scheduled for appearances Thursday in Juvenile Court at Lisbon in the theft of a car in East Liverpool.

Wellsville police took the boys into custody Sunday when they abandoned the car at 15th St., and jumped into the Ohio River near the Georgetti River - Terminal as police pursued.

ROLLS ON LARGE CASTERS

Large easy rolling casters let the HOOVER move about with complete ease. Store it in one place...use it in another.

SAVES $$ ON DETERGENT

The washing action is so efficient, it needs less detergent than the agitator or tumbler-type washer. It has a SUDS-SAVER, too!

FAMILY-SIZE LOADS

2 Double Sheets plus pillow cases, or 36 diapers, or 12 men's shirts. Washes even the most delicate things.

WASHES FAST

TURBO-ACTION AGITATION

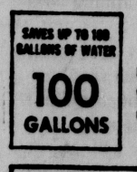
DRIES IN SECONDS

The clothes are spun at the amazing speed of 2,000 RPM, this enables the washer to extract soap or detergents that can't be rinsed out. Laundry comes out really damp-dry.



SAVES UP TO 100 GALLONS OF WATER

SAVES $$ ON WATER

Uses only 1/3 the amount of water that most automatics use. Saves up to 100 gallons every 3 loads.

NO PLUMBING NECESSARY

Needs no plumbing, needs no installation. Just roll the HOOVER to any sink, slip on the hose and start washing. Pump empties washer automatically.

EASY TO SERVICE No gears or complicated control panels. Truly a do-it-yourself washer. Belt replacement is a breeze...less need for costly service.

Also exempt would be national defense programs, veterans' benefits, Social Security benefits, farm-price supports and health insurance payments.

Based on current estimates, federal spending in the fiscal year ending next June 30 would be $136.2 billion.

Under the postal-pay measure, also expected to win quick Senate approval, postal rates for all classes of mail would go up by next Jan. 7, generating new revenue of $900 million a year once they're all in effect.

The measure also would boost post-card postage from 4 to 5 cents and air mail cards from 6 to 8 cents. The per-piece postal rates for third-class mail would rise from 2.875 cents to 3.5 cents starting next month, then to 4 cents in July 1969. But a 3.8-cent rate would apply to the first 250,000 pieces mailed in any year.

Second-class rates, which cover newspapers and magazines, would jump next year from 1 cent to 1.1 cent under the minimum rate, then to 1.2 cents in 1969 and 1.3 cents in 1970.

Both the pay and postal rate boosts exceed President Johnson's requests but indications are he'll sign the measure.

Boys Await Hearing In Theft Of Car Here

A boy from East Liverpool and one from Chester, both 14 are scheduled for appearances Thursday in Juvenile Court at Lisbon in the theft of a car in East Liverpool.

Wellsville police took the boys into custody Sunday when they abandoned the car at 15th St., and jumped into the Ohio River near the Georgetti River - Terminal as police pursued.

Ready For The Other Shoe

The two men who speak for the Republican Party in Congress, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan and Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois made a significant political move last week.

They talked openly about the way Dwight D. Eisenhower clinched his election in 1952 by promising to go to Korea, if elected, to seek "an early and honorable end to the war."

The two legislators dropped one pair of shoes. The Democratic party can wait for the other, which would be an identical promise by the 1968 Republican candidate to go to Vietnam to seek "an early and honorable end to the war."

Vietnam will be an issue in next year's national elections. Nothing can keep it from being an issue, except a cease-fire like the truce that still exists in Korea.

Whether the Republican candidates for the presidency is hawkish or dovish, it is politicially inevitable that he will promise to get the United States out of Vietnam. The war will be the paramount issue. It cannot be ducked.

It is interesting 15 years later to review what happened after the Republican candidate made his promise, Oct. 24, 1952.

After a landslide election, the president-elect went to Korea on Nov. 29 for a whirlwind inspection of the battle area, talking to all military and political figures involved in the U. N. side. A cease-fire conference actually had been at work since July 10, 1951. Negotiations were intensified and by the following June the conferees had agreed on a cease-fire map.

Neither side won in Korea. Occasionally, casualties result from the continuing tension. But no large-scale fighting has occurred in Korea since July 26, 1953 — more than 14 years.

In preparing for the eventuality of similar action in Vietnam as a result of the 1968 election, Americans should remember that the truce was bitterly opposed by the South Koreans, who said they had been "sold out" by their U. N. allies, meaning the United States, principally.

U. S opinion was far from solidly united There are still Americans who contend the United States should have intensified the war, even to the extent of attacking the Chinese army in Manchuria.

But they make no impression on Americans who feel that 23,629 Americans dead in combat, 20,617 deaths from other causes and 103,284 wounded were more than enough to pay for the Korean crusade.

Thieves On Earth

All is not good will to men during the Christmas season, as thefts of money from the purses of holiday shoppers indicate.

Soon will come the first report of the stealing of strings of colored lights used for Yuletide decorating or the loss of a pine tree.

Oh rest merry, gentlemen and ladies, be of good cheer — and guard ye well your wallets, take your keys from your autos and anchor your holiday trappings.

Who Should Get Out Of The Draft?

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, 74-year-old boss of Selective Service, is being referred to as "controversial" because he wants to call up young men making it known they are opposed to the Vietnam War.

This would make the draft an instrument of punishment for free speech and free thought. That never was the intention of Selective Service. The intention was the other way around — to make military service equitable.

It once was feared that war would skim off the best of the nation's young men, who would be first to volunteer, unless some device could be found to call up all young men. The original lottery device is long gone from Selective Service. Local draft boards have a wide range of judgment and flexibility. They must look after the national interest in deciding who should be called up.

Doing this has caused students to be deferred oftener than any other group of young men. Yet, students are most likely to be involved in anti-Vietnam War demonstrations.

Gen. Hershey's tough attitude, consequently, seems to be aimed at students. Hence the controversy which the general has been keeping hot with his comments about using the draft to punish people who object to it; i.e., students.

But the danger does not really lie in Gen. Hershey. It lies, rather, in the unpopularity of a military crusade in Asia that has no solid basis of support anywhere and least solid of all among people likely to pursue advanced education.

This is the real danger in this controversy that finds an aging draft chief accused of everything from senility to anti-intellectualism. Irreconcilable differences have been opened up.

The Vietnam War has split the people of the United States like no issue since prohibition. It isn't Gen. Hershey who keeps the draft issue hot. The issue has changed the general from a reasonably amiable man into a curmudgeon. He, himself, is a victim of a war that lacks everything which once made military service in other wars bearable.

The Great Statistics Mystery

Take for instance the new report on the increasing crime rate in the nation.

One figure cited a 17 per cent increase in crimes committed in suburban communities. The figure seems relatively conclusive since it is based on data from local and state police agencies.

But everyone knows the population of suburbia is skyrocketing. People from rural areas and people from the cities are becoming suburbanites. The crime rate is directly related to the population density of an area.

The more people we have in suburbs, the more crime we have. A higher crime rate does not mean police are doing less to control crime than they were last year. It reflects a larger population.

The report said crime had increased 15 per cent in big cities. The figure just isn't accurate unless updated population figures can be cited also.

We feel crime increase is a topic of vital concern for every community and needs constant attention. We also believe in giving credit where it is due. And in some cases, police departments deserve a pat on the back for keeping crime in line as much as they have in face of ever-increasing population.

If it weren't for modern methods, skillful administration and dedication of law enforcement men across the country, the crime rate really would be clear out of sight.

Purely Personal Observations

The side of Charles de Gaulle's character most infuriating to the American high brass is the way he chuckles while sinking darts into the supersensitive American hide. The man has a buoyant sense of humor about his design for tripping up Uncle Sam while glorifying Marianne.

The most talked about person in these parts is "the girl in the red Corvair." People sidle up to me and ask how she is and I tell them I don't even know because she doesn't know who I am so how could she tell me.

I knew one set of parents called personally by the late Francis Cardinal Spellman after he had talked to their son in Vietnam during a Christmas visit. No prince of the church ever did a more princely thing than the cardinal's manifestation of concern for American boys away from home at Christmas.

Ignace Jan Paderewski, the famed Polish pianist, composer, and statesman, entered the Warsaw Conservatory when only 12 years old, and six years later at the age of 18 he was appointed a professor there.

Who's Minding The Store?

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

The entire government of the state of Alabama is now working for former Gov. George Wallace's presidential nomination outside the state, and nobody is quite sure who is minding the store.

Art Buchwald

While Alabamans can probably govern themselves, there is always the chance that an emergency could arise in which somebody in authority might be needed.

Suppose, for example, there is a riot in Bull Whip County, and the sheriff down there calls the state capital for help.

"This is Sheriff Axhandle of Bull Whip County. Let me speak to the governor."

"Well, where's he at?"

"WELL, LET ME speak to the lieutenant governor, then."

"Well, then, I'll have to take the National Guard."

"I've got to speak to somebody. What about the commissioner for public safety?"

"He's down in New Mexico as Wallace's advance man. I doubt if you could get through to him."

"Let me speak to the speaker of the House."

"You must really be out of it down there. The speaker of the House has moved to Oklahoma until after the elections."

"Can you get me some cattle prods, pronto?"

"The state senators took all the cattle prods with them when they went off to campaign for Wallace in New Hampshire."

"THIS IS ridiculous. What about some fire hoses?"

"The fire department is in Ohio trying to put out some fires that George started a few weeks ago."

"There's got to be somebody in authority."

"Sorry, Sheriff. There's nobody here."

"What about you? Don't you have any authority?"

"I hadn't given it much thought."

"Well, who the hell are you, anyway?"

"I'm the janitor. What kind of riot didja say you were having down there?"

VICTOR RIESEL

Labor Dumps Kennedy Plan

BAL HARBOUR — There are two behind-the-scenes stories here which may well reroute history. One is the growing influence and affluence of American labor reflected in such confidential decisions as the purchase of Washington D.C.'s Hotel Layfayette for over $2 million so the AFL-CIO can tear it down eventually to expand its headquarters across a full block. Over the long run this will be the more traumatic story as long-range drives on industry are "strategy-ized" and executed in space age campaigns to unionize millions.

Victor Riesel

But since this is the fifth season — politics time — the second story is more immediate and dramatic.

In private conferences among themselves — and in confidential talks with Vice President Hubert Humphrey — a band of politically and industrially powerful labor leaders are planning to smash Robert Kennedy's Dump-Johnson operations.

Their first move will be aimed at cracking wide open the New York Senator's vital propaganda vehicle, the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA).

Leading the anti-Kennedy labor group are Louis Stulberg, President of the International Ladies' Garment Workers'; Joe Beirne, President of the Communications Workers of America; and more quietly, for that is his style, I. W. Abel, president of the embattled United Steelworkers of America, who are now in a "final conflict" with the inner core of American industry, the copper, nonferrous metal, mining and smelting corporations.

Most of the anti-Kennedy bloc, who have been discussing the dismantling of ADA between sessions of the AFL-CIO's Seventh Constitutional Convention here, believe they have positive evidence that Bob Kennedy positively will storm the national Democratic nominating convention in Chicago next summer.

THEY DO NOT BELIEVE that he will wait for '72.

They do believe, and so does Hubert Humphrey, that the Kennedy forces, brain-trusted by John Kenneth Galbraith, Ted Sorensen, Gene McCarthy and Joe Rauh, Mr. ADA himself, "are hell bent to get the nomination for Bobby."

The labor bloc here is particularly irritated with the quiet dispatch by ADA chairman Galbraith of a letter scheduling a national ADA board meeting in Washington for Jan. 13 to reconsider the ADA's alleged neutrality and make plans to dump Johnson.

This Galbraith letter states that the time has come to review the ADA policy of simply trying to elect peace delegates to both major party conventions.

In reaction to this, Joe Beirne, an AFL-CIO vice president, told a friend he was ready to resign from ADA.

He said it had outlived its usefulness and was "filled with Kennedy spies."

Louis Stulberg, whose 450,000-member union long has been the financial and philosophical angel of liberal causes, is moving to starve ADA for several reasons. He is pro-Johnson. He is opposed to the ADA drift to a peace ticket. And he believes that ADA no longer reflects anything but a handful of Kennedy operatives.

"WE'RE TIRED OF seeing Bob Kennedy's men use ADA as a front," said one of the anti-ADA labor men here.

Not all the anti-Kennedy sentiment is in the anti-ADA caucus here. It's all over the thousands of delegates and visitors — with the exception of a handful of men led by officials of the late Sidney Hillman's Amalgamated (men's) Clothing Workers.

Hundreds of delegates, for example, cheered the Seafarers' president, Paul Hall, who is also an AFL-CIO national vice president, when he slashed at Kennedy with:

"If the Senator from New York would quit putting his finger in the wind to test the cold and try to act accordingly with his political ambitions and stop sending his hunting dog, McCarthy, from Minnesota out to bite and sniff and snap at everybody, then I think that it would be better for him and we all would be in a better position in this country as well."

Those are strong words. They come from a strong man.

They reflect the view of a strong political machine, AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE). It is strongly operative in hundreds of major cities which Bob Kennedy must take if ever he runs for national — or state office.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Controls

President Johnson hasn't decided whether he should recommend wage-and-price controls to Congress. But he doesn't mind letting both businessmen and labor unions know he might feel compelled to do so.

When asked whether he would ask Congress for emergency authority to enact wage-and-price controls, he replied:

"No such proposals are under consideration at this time. I say nothing at this time."

Then, when the President was to address the Business Council — a group of the nation's top executives — the speech issued to the press beforehand read:

"For the first time, America is fighting for freedom abroad without resorting to wage-and-price controls at home. Voluntary restraint has made involuntary curbs unnecessary. This is the way it should be done."

When Mr. Johnson actually delivered his talk, however, he said: "Voluntary restraint has made involuntary curbs to this point unnecessary."

Insertion of the phrase "to this point" is regarded as significant.

SOME BUSINESSMEN have derived the impression that Mr. Johnson is talking about wage-and-price controls as a threat and doesn't really intend to press for them.

"I think it is also very important to remember that the talking about it, the process of talking about it, the brandishing of controls as a threat, with little intention of really taking the step—this is a very serious game. And I think we should be very careful, at all levels, in discussing the imposition thereof."

The President in his remarks to the Business Council made a fervent plea for "voluntary" restraints.

"Nobody benefits from a wage-price spiral. Labor knows that it does not. You know that business does not. And surely the American people do not.

"Yet, business says it is labor's responsibility to break the spiral, and labor says it is yours. I say it is everyone's responsibility. It is the responsibility of government, of labor, and of business.

"I intend to urge labor to restrain its demands for excessive wage increases. I am urging business tonight to refrain from avoidable price increases, and to intensify its competitive efforts."

Wage-and-price controls would be more difficult to administer this time than ever before. Certainly Congress would have to give to wage-stabilization boards and price-control agencies more authority than was exercised during World War I, World War II or the Korean War.

THE COUNTRY'S business is more complex than it was a decade ago, and there is an added complication this time in connection with exports and imports.

Most perplexing is the matter of tariffs, which have recently been reduced on many products. This has caused concern in the steel, textile, oil and other industries which are finding domestic market diminished by imports from countries whose labor costs are low.

Wage-and-price controls, though distasteful to almost everybody, could turn out to be the only remedy the government can use.

Labor unions may keep on forcing wage costs upward. Various industries may find it necessary to raise prices on specialized products to overcome the losses suffered by the influx of low-cost imports.

President Johnson plainly does not want to close the door against possible enactment of such legislation at the next session of Congress. He will have to recommend it if other forms of control do not effectively reduce the inflation which has been steadily decreasing the purchasing power of the dollar.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The judges announced that the 40 and 8, fun society of the American Legion, received first prize in the contest for best float in the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters boycott parade against Japanese imports.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — A minstrel show was given by East Liverpool Moose Lodge. The end men were Joseph Flanagan, Jerry Flint, Sonny Torrence, Charles Nortrup, James Grimes, Paul Ferguson, Don Stoffel and Arnold Densmore.

Mrs. Helen Bemis was inducted as worthy matron of Wellsville Chapter 417, Order of Eastern Star, and her husband, E. L. Bemis, as worthy patron.

"Well, where's he at?"

"WELL, LET ME speak to the lieutenant governor, then."

"Well, then, I'll have to take the National Guard."

"I've got to speak to somebody. What about the commissioner for public safety?"

"He's down in New Mexico as Wallace's advance man. I doubt if you could get through to him."

"Let me speak to the speaker of the House."

"You must really be out of it down there. The speaker of the House has moved to Oklahoma until after the elections."

"Can you get me some cattle prods, pronto?"

"The state senators took all the cattle prods with them when they went off to campaign for Wallace in New Hampshire."

"THIS IS ridiculous. What about some fire hoses?"

"The fire department is in Ohio trying to put out some fires that George started a few weeks ago."

"There's got to be somebody in authority."

"Sorry, Sheriff. There's nobody here."

"What about you? Don't you have any authority?"

"I hadn't given it much thought."

"Well, who the hell are you, anyway?"

"I'm the janitor. What kind of riot didja say you were having down there?"

VICTOR RIESEL

Labor Dumps Kennedy Plan

BAL HARBOUR — There are two behind-the-scenes stories here which may well reroute history. One is the growing influence and affluence of American labor reflected in such confidential decisions as the purchase of Washington D.C.'s Hotel Layfayette for over $2 million so the AFL-CIO can tear it down eventually to expand its headquarters across a full block. Over the long run this will be the more traumatic story as long-range drives on industry are "strategy-ized" and executed in space age campaigns to unionize millions.

Victor Riesel

But since this is the fifth season — politics time — the second story is more immediate and dramatic.

In private conferences among themselves — and in confidential talks with Vice President Hubert Humphrey — a band of politically and industrially powerful labor leaders are planning to smash Robert Kennedy's Dump-Johnson operations.

Their first move will be aimed at cracking wide open the New York Senator's vital propaganda vehicle, the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA).

Leading the anti-Kennedy labor group are Louis Stulberg, President of the International Ladies' Garment Workers'; Joe Beirne, President of the Communications Workers of America; and more quietly, for that is his style, I. W. Abel, president of the embattled United Steelworkers of America, who are now in a "final conflict" with the inner core of American industry, the copper, nonferrous metal, mining and smelting corporations.

Most of the anti-Kennedy bloc, who have been discussing the dismantling of ADA between sessions of the AFL-CIO's Seventh Constitutional Convention here, believe they have positive evidence that Bob Kennedy positively will storm the national Democratic nominating convention in Chicago next summer.

THEY DO NOT BELIEVE that he will wait for '72.

They do believe, and so does Hubert Humphrey, that the Kennedy forces, brain-trusted by John Kenneth Galbraith, Ted Sorensen, Gene McCarthy and Joe Rauh, Mr. ADA himself, "are hell bent to get the nomination for Bobby."

The labor bloc here is particularly irritated with the quiet dispatch by ADA chairman Galbraith of a letter scheduling a national ADA board meeting in Washington for Jan. 13 to reconsider the ADA's alleged neutrality and make plans to dump Johnson.

This Galbraith letter states that the time has come to review the ADA policy of simply trying to elect peace delegates to both major party conventions.

In reaction to this, Joe Beirne, an AFL-CIO vice president, told a friend he was ready to resign from ADA.

He said it had outlived its usefulness and was "filled with Kennedy spies."

Louis Stulberg, whose 450,000-member union long has been the financial and philosophical angel of liberal causes, is moving to starve ADA for several reasons. He is pro-Johnson. He is opposed to the ADA drift to a peace ticket. And he believes that ADA no longer reflects anything but a handful of Kennedy operatives.

"WE'RE TIRED OF seeing Bob Kennedy's men use ADA as a front," said one of the anti-ADA labor men here.

Not all the anti-Kennedy sentiment is in the anti-ADA caucus here. It's all over the thousands of delegates and visitors — with the exception of a handful of men led by officials of the late Sidney Hillman's Amalgamated (men's) Clothing Workers.

Hundreds of delegates, for example, cheered the Seafarers' president, Paul Hall, who is also an AFL-CIO national vice president, when he slashed at Kennedy with:

"If the Senator from New York would quit putting his finger in the wind to test the cold and try to act accordingly with his political ambitions and stop sending his hunting dog, McCarthy, from Minnesota out to bite and sniff and snap at everybody, then I think that it would be better for him and we all would be in a better position in this country as well."

Those are strong words. They come from a strong man.

They reflect the view of a strong political machine, AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE). It is strongly operative in hundreds of major cities which Bob Kennedy must take if ever he runs for national — or state office.

Controls

President Johnson hasn't decided whether he should recommend wage-and-price controls to Congress. But he doesn't mind letting both businessmen and labor unions know he might feel compelled to do so.

When asked whether he would ask Congress for emergency authority to enact wage-and-price controls, he replied:

"No such proposals are under consideration at this time. I say nothing at this time."

Then, when the President was to address the Business Council — a group of the nation's top executives — the speech issued to the press beforehand read:

"For the first time, America is fighting for freedom abroad without resorting to wage-and-price controls at home. Voluntary restraint has made involuntary curbs unnecessary. This is the way it should be done."

When Mr. Johnson actually delivered his talk, however, he said: "Voluntary restraint has made involuntary curbs to this point unnecessary."

Insertion of the phrase "to this point" is regarded as significant.

SOME BUSINESSMEN have derived the impression that Mr. Johnson is talking about wage-and-price controls as a threat and doesn't really intend to press for them.

"I think it is also very important to remember that the talking about it, the process of talking about it, the brandishing of controls as a threat, with little intention of really taking the step—this is a very serious game. And I think we should be very careful, at all levels, in discussing the imposition thereof."

The President in his remarks to the Business Council made a fervent plea for "voluntary" restraints.

"Nobody benefits from a wage-price spiral. Labor knows that it does not. You know that business does not. And surely the American people do not.

"Yet, business says it is labor's responsibility to break the spiral, and labor says it is yours. I say it is everyone's responsibility. It is the responsibility of government, of labor, and of business.

"I intend to urge labor to restrain its demands for excessive wage increases. I am urging business tonight to refrain from avoidable price increases, and to intensify its competitive efforts."

Wage-and-price controls would be more difficult to administer this time than ever before. Certainly Congress would have to give to wage-stabilization boards and price-control agencies more authority than was exercised during World War I, World War II or the Korean War.

THE COUNTRY'S business is more complex than it was a decade ago, and there is an added complication this time in connection with exports and imports.

Most perplexing is the matter of tariffs, which have recently been reduced on many products. This has caused concern in the steel, textile, oil and other industries which are finding domestic market diminished by imports from countries whose labor costs are low.

Wage-and-price controls, though distasteful to almost everybody, could turn out to be the only remedy the government can use.

Labor unions may keep on forcing wage costs upward. Various industries may find it necessary to raise prices on specialized products to overcome the losses suffered by the influx of low-cost imports.

President Johnson plainly does not want to close the door against possible enactment of such legislation at the next session of Congress. He will have to recommend it if other forms of control do not effectively reduce the inflation which has been steadily decreasing the purchasing power of the dollar.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The judges announced that the 40 and 8, fun society of the American Legion, received first prize in the contest for best float in the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters boycott parade against Japanese imports.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — A minstrel show was given by East Liverpool Moose Lodge. The end men were Joseph Flanagan, Jerry Flint, Sonny Torrence, Charles Nortrup, James Grimes, Paul Ferguson, Don Stoffel and Arnold Densmore.

Mrs. Helen Bemis was inducted as worthy matron of Wellsville Chapter 417, Order of Eastern Star, and her husband, E. L. Bemis, as worthy patron.

For City Employes

Chester Will Act On Civil Service

City employes at Chester soon may be under civil service as the result of action by Council Monday night which set in motion preliminary steps to bring the matter before the voters.

Councilmen Thomas Bowen, Percy Willison and Charles Kology, the only three attending, voted to authorize Solicitor James Jordan to begin work on the proposal.

BOWEN, WHO initiated the move, explained after the meeting the employes, who have talked informally with various Council members, are in favor of the change.

The action has not been taken because communities with populations under 5,000 are not permitted to operate under civil service. However, civil service can be enacted if the voters approve. Council hopes to have the issue on the ballot in 1968, but members as yet are not certain whether it should be placed on the primary ballot or the general election ballot in November.

The legislators also said they are not sure whether all employes will be covered or only those on a full-time basis.

COUNCIL reminded residents living outside the city limits and desiring fire protection they must sign a "bond" in order for firemen to respond to an alarm.

Members pointed out many who formerly resided within the municipal boundaries may have moved outside the limits and thus should sign the agreement to pay $100 for a call, should they experience a fire on their property.

While no money is posted, the agreement holds the home owners responsible for payment of the fee in the event the department is summoned.

Bowen urged property owners to check the matter as soon as possible.

Forms are available at the Water Department office on the first floor of the City Hall and may be picked up weekdays.

Council asked Clerk Donald Hood to contact Jordan concerning a run the fire department made last spring outside the city. In this case, the resident has not signed the bond. Hood told members he has sent two letters asking payment of the $100 fee, but has received no response.

Traffic lights will be left running during the night in line with approval of a motion initiated by Willison. He said cold weather can freeze the mechanism if the lights are turned to the blinker phase each night and also noted an additional hazard is caused when motorists from side streets are required to stop before proceeding when the streets are snow-covered and slippery.

Council authorized the moving of dressing rooms from the front of the second floor auditorium to the rear in order to have bank boards for basketball in the front of the building. Patrolman Robert Wilson volunteered to assist with the change.

Council briefly discussed the possibility of extending sidewalks beyond the intersection of 1st St. and Carolina Ave. Members said the walk will be extended on the north side of the highway for a new supermarket. Members also will investigate the possibility of laying the walks along the south side of the road as well. Perhaps, they said, the State Road Commission will bear a portion of the bill.

Bills totaled $2,892.82. Remittances amounted to $51.10.

The next meeting will be Dec. 26.

Ex-Review Aide Gets New Repository Post

Gerald I. Walworth of Canton, former classified advertising manager for The Review, has been appointed advertising director for The Canton Repository.

Walworth, who began his newspaper career in Michigan, had served with the Repository prior to first coming to The Review in 1937. He also was classified manager here from 1950 to 1959, when he returned to The Repository. He became advertising manager in 1963.

Yellow Creek Board Acts To Clear Roads

Yellow Creek Township trustees have taken two actions to help keep roads cleared during the winter.

At a meeting Saturday, they announced that cars parked on township roads will be ticketed in an effort to keep the thoroughfares open and that there will be no snow removal or slagging where the plow cannot get through.

New Color Auto Tag

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A new color auto license plate will be put into use in Ohio Thursday—to denote violators of traffic laws.

The new plate has red letters and numbers on a yellow-brown background and has been dubbed a "family" plate.

It will be issued for vehicles whose owners have had their driver's license and regular auto tags suspended for violating traffic laws.

Zeidler Quits Hancock Post

NEW CUMBERLAND — The resignation of Lawrence H. Zeidler, director of food services for the Hancock County school system, was accepted Monday night by the county Board of Education during its meeting here.

In his letter of resignation, Zeidler said only that "circumstances require it."

The resignation of Zeidler came on the heels of action taken by the school board Nov. 30 requesting an inventory of all foods and equipment used in the program. The request came after the board received a six - page report from Crawford Cameron, director of the system's state and federal programs, concerning the food program. The contents of the report have not been revealed. The inventory was launched Dec. 1 by Cameron and another school employe and has not been completed.

Cameron temporarily has been placed in charge of the program during the inventory and will remain in that capacity until the board obtains a replacement for Zeidler.

The hot lunch program has been under criticism for some time by board members, Supt. Robert Hall and parents.

Reminder Given To Aspirants On Expense Reports

The County Election Board mailed a final reminder Monday to 115 candidates who have not yet filed the required sworn statements of their expenditures in the campaign for the Nov. 7 general election.

Signed by Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections, the letter reminds that state law requires the reports must be filed by Friday, Dec. 22, at 4 p.m. Approximately 189 aspirants already have filed the reports, as 304 candidates were listed on the November ballot in races for city, township, village and school district offices —exclusive of write-ins.

Miss Resnick emphasized that law does not permit issuance of certificates of election to successful candidates unless they file the reports. Without the certificate, the official - elect cannot qualify for office. In addition, the law bars any candidate from running for office again for five years if he fails to file a report.

The statements are required of all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and from individuals and committees which supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

4 Drivers Pay Fines On Speeding Charges

Four drivers cited on speeding charges by the Ohio Highway Patrol paid fines totaling $55 and costs today in Municipal Court.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff meted out fines of $15 and costs to: Thomas K. Clark of Wellsville RD 1, Ellis H. McMillen of 1808 Clark Ave., Wellsville, and Charles M. Allen of Salineville RD 1, all accused of speeding on Route 7. Paul F. Pugh of RD 2, cited on St. Clair Ave. Ext., was fined $10 and costs.

Meanwhile, Ross K. Bell of 237 Highland Ave., Wellsville, charged with crashing a stop sign at the junction of Kountz Ave. and Route 7, was fined $10 and costs.

Five Treated After Fumes

Five taken ill by paint fumes at the Homer Laughlin China Co. in Newell Monday were among 11 area residents treated at City Hospital.

Mrs. Marie Allmon of the Y. & O. Rd. is in "good" condition, after being admitted.

Treated and released at the hospital were Helen Harpold of 1174 Allen Ave., Thelma Ward of Glenmoor, Lorna Cramer of Madison Dr., and Linda Graham of 624 Line St., Chester.

Mrs. Donald Hildebrand of Hunter Ave., LaCroft, a laceration of the left thumb on a bottle at home; Sherry Angle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Angle of Lycia Ave., Chester, a contusion of the right wrist on a banister at Chester Junior High School.

Sign Regulations Aired In Session Of City Planners

Rules governing signs and other outdoor advertising structures as spelled out in the city's new zoning regulations were discussed at a meeting of the City Planning Commission Monday night in City Hall.

Questions about the regulations were raised by individuals in the sign business. Roy Cooper of the Central Neon Sign Co. acted as principal spokesman. After a review of the regulations and their possible effects, the Planning Commission agreed to meet again next Monday night for a further discussion with spokesmen for the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

More than three pages of the zoning regulation code are devoted to spelling out requirements for signs. Generally speaking, the rules limit the size of the signs and control the places in which they may be utilized.

The Planning Commission's next regular meeting will be Monday, Jan. 22.

Mrs. Percy said when the first mortar round landed and the helicopter took off with her, "I grabbed the photographic equipment and papers lying on the floor of the helicopter and the crewman grabbed hold of me. We took off straight over the trees and flew to Song Be (about three miles away) to get help."

"Our problem was we didn't know where the fire was coming from," said the senator." We were in among the unburned thatched huts because we wanted to get out of the cleard area, which was the burned out area.

"The five of us spread around. Scott took the flank. I took one sector over here. We were just watching for any type of movement."

Percy said his first thought was how to operate the revolver he had.

"I kept shouting to Dennis, 'Is the safety on or off?' He kept shouting something I couldn't hear and finally I determined there was no safety on it."

The group said despite the firing, they saw none of the Communist forces during the 20 minutes before their helicopter returned with an escort of armed Army choppers.

"Dennis Smith was magnificent," said Percy. "He directed us out (of the open area). When the mortars came in I started off toward the jungle. He directed me the right way."

Outwardly calm, Percy told of his narrow escape at a news conference. His clothes were muddied from his crawl.

"I've learned after living with him for 15 years that life is never dull around him," said Mrs. Percy.

During World War II, Percy enlisted in 1943 as an apprentice seaman and was honorably discharged two years later with the rank of lieutenant. He received an admiral's commendation for supervision of naval ordnance training units at the U.S. Naval Air Station in Alameda, Calif.

Elsewhere in the war, Communist forces kept up their attack on U.S. troops around Saigon today heavily shelling a unit of the 25th Infantry Division in night bivouac positions along the southern edge of War Zone d.

The 25th Division infantrymen, who were hit 25 miles northwest of Saigon, countered with a steady stream of mortar, artillery and machine-gun fire across open rice paddies. Sweeping the battlefield at dawn, the Americans found the bodies of 39 Communist troops, some of them North Vietnamese regulars and other Viet Cong. All were carrying automatic weapons, a U.S. officer at the scene said.

American casualties were only six wounded, a spokesman said, despite the 180-round Communist barrage, because the attack was not well coordinated and the Americans were well dug in.

The attacking force was estimated at about 150 men.

To Replace Old Furniture

Wellsville Board Buys Classroom Desks, Tables

The Wellsville Board of Education approved the purchase of additional classroom furniture during a meeting Monday night in Beacom Memorial gymnasium.

The replacements, costing approximately $4,000, will include 360 student desks, 13 teacher desks and one table for the special class. School officials will dispose of all the old MacDonald School desks in bad condition in the high school, Junior High School, Fairview, Garfield, McKinley and MacDonald schools. Purchase of some 210 desks had been authorized at the Nov. 13 meeting.

THE BOARD approved Lowe's recommendation for the purchase of an AB Dick 550 mimeograph machine costing $800 and an AB Dick stencilmaker for the high school. He pointed out that the amount of work done requires a new more up-to-date machine. The two pieces of equipment will be used in the superintendent's office, but the stencilmaker will be for the use of the entire school in many areas. The old mimeograph machine in the superintendent's office will be used at Garfield School.

A report of a joint vocational high school meeting Nov. 28 at Lisbon attended by William Ferrall, president, and Lowe was made by Lowe. Another meeting Dec. 19 will be attended by Ferrall.

Lowe expressed appreciation of the installation of the push-button telephone system in the high school office, pointing out it saves considerable time and energy for some of the teachers.

The progress of the reading program was reported by Lowe. Fifty - eight are enrolled in the classes taught after school, 26 in the remedial reading group taught by Miss Ruth Irwin and 32 in speed reading taught by Mrs. Donna Allison.

LOWE GAVE an account of an athletic board meeting in which all phases of the athletic program was discussed. The revived football program, arranged by Paul Mikanik, includes four at home and five away games. The basketball program has started, and the sixth grade team will begin its schedule soon.

Lowe informed board members that the Garfield PTA has requested a crossing guard at 17th and Commerce Sts., calling the condition there hazardous. He added, "I think it is the duty of City Council to provide a crossing guard, and I would be willing to go to Council to discuss the matter." Ferrall expressed the opinion it would be hard to provide guards since there are so many different crosswalks near the school. Dr. Frank Rivelle, board member - elect, suggested a red pushbutton system that could be operated by the school children might be installed as a safety measure.

Lowe said that the Ohio Department of Education has approved the driver's education course and would pay $30 for each student completing it. The board went on record not to charge students a $5 fee. Students from 15½ years of age and up will be signed as soon after Christmas as possible. Approximately 60 to 75 are expected to take the course. George Lawton and Don Sawyer will be the instructors.

IN HIS report, Lowe stated he had received word that a Mr. Hare from the state industrial arts department in Columbus will meet with the local committee Jan. 22 at 7 p. m. to make a survey of the needs of the department. He said the state business education department offered to pay half the costs on equipment to expand the partial course in the high school. Lowe is waiting word from the state department as to the visit of a representative with the local business education committee to study the needs for an extended course. The application for funds for equipment must be submitted by Feb. 1.

The board renewed membership in the Ohio High School Board Association. Raymond Rolley, clerk, reported the new tax rate will be 22.9 mills, including the recently passed 5-mill levy Dr. Janis Lauva, Daniel MacLean and Charles Glass were present, Russell Dysert was absent.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I make my own furniture wash at home?

A.—One excellent one consists of three tablespoons of boiled linseed oil and two tablespoons of pure gum turpentine, added to one quart of hot water. Mix this well and allow to cool. Then wring a soft cloth out of this mixture and clean a small area of your furniture at a time, wiping each section dry as you proceed. No rinsing is necessary. Polish the furniture after it has dried completely.

A report of a joint vocational high school meeting Nov. 28 at Lisbon attended by William Ferrall, president, and Lowe was made by Lowe. Another meeting Dec. 19 will be attended by Ferrall.

Lowe expressed appreciation of the installation of the push-button telephone system in the high school office, pointing out it saves considerable time and energy for some of the teachers.

The progress of the reading program was reported by Lowe. Fifty - eight are enrolled in the classes taught after school, 26 in the remedial reading group taught by Miss Ruth Irwin and 32 in speed reading taught by Mrs. Donna Allison.

LOWE GAVE an account of an athletic board meeting in which all phases of the athletic program was discussed. The revived football program, arranged by Paul Mikanik, includes four at home and five away games. The basketball program has started, and the sixth grade team will begin its schedule soon.

Lowe informed board members that the Garfield PTA has requested a crossing guard at 17th and Commerce Sts., calling the condition there hazardous. He added, "I think it is the duty of City Council to provide a crossing guard, and I would be willing to go to Council to discuss the matter." Ferrall expressed the opinion it would be hard to provide guards since there are so many different crosswalks near the school. Dr. Frank Rivelle, board member - elect, suggested a red pushbutton system that could be operated by the school children might be installed as a safety measure.

Lowe said that the Ohio Department of Education has approved the driver's education course and would pay $30 for each student completing it. The board went on record not to charge students a $5 fee. Students from 15½ years of age and up will be signed as soon after Christmas as possible. Approximately 60 to 75 are expected to take the course. George Lawton and Don Sawyer will be the instructors.

IN HIS report, Lowe stated he had received word that a Mr. Hare from the state industrial arts department in Columbus will meet with the local committee Jan. 22 at 7 p. m. to make a survey of the needs of the department. He said the state business education department offered to pay half the costs on equipment to expand the partial course in the high school. Lowe is waiting word from the state department as to the visit of a representative with the local business education committee to study the needs for an extended course. The application for funds for equipment must be submitted by Feb. 1.

The board renewed membership in the Ohio High School Board Association. Raymond Rolley, clerk, reported the new tax rate will be 22.9 mills, including the recently passed 5-mill levy Dr. Janis Lauva, Daniel MacLean and Charles Glass were present, Russell Dysert was absent.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I make my own furniture wash at home?

A.—One excellent one consists of three tablespoons of boiled linseed oil and two tablespoons of pure gum turpentine, added to one quart of hot water. Mix this well and allow to cool. Then wring a soft cloth out of this mixture and clean a small area of your furniture at a time, wiping each section dry as you proceed. No rinsing is necessary. Polish the furniture after it has dried completely.

Would Cut House Seats To 200

ConCon Officers Study Plan To Revise Charter

By WILLIAM E. DEIBLER

The proposal, introduced from the floor Monday, would reduce the number of seats in the House of Representatives from 203 to 200 and limit legislative sessions to 150 calendar days.

It was sponsored by Senate Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup, R-Bedford, and Senate Majority Whip Albert R. Pechan, R-Armstrong, both delegates.

Lt. Gov. Raymond J. Broderick, convention president, said he delayed action on the proposal until it could be determined to which of the newly appointed committees it should be submitted for consideration.

However, other sources said a question of propriety had arisen, and the possibility existed that the proposal would be rejected. The reason: the provision calling for a time limit on legislative sessions would be beyond the convention's authority.

Meanwhile, Broderick was awaiting a legal opinion on the matter.

In another significant development Monday, when the convention began its second week of deliberations, Broderick announced the appointment of 16 co-chairmen of eight major committees and 232 committee assignments.

None of the 12 legislative leaders who are ex-officio convention delegates was named to a committee chairmanship.

Developments last week pointed up that many of the 150 elected delegates, in the interest of a nonpartisan convention, were opposed to legislative leaders being given committee chairmanships.

The legislators will not be without power, however, since Broderick appointed 8 of the 12 to the 16-member administration and finance committee that will control the convention's $1.5 million budget, including 230 staff jobs.

The 16 co-chairmen appointed Monday were:

Administration and Finance—Guy G. Swope, Harrisburg, and Israel C. Bloom, Washington.

The eight major committees, along with the 16 subcommittees will do the bulk of the work of redrafting four key areas of the constitution.

Earthquake Toll Rises To 115 In India

BOMBAY, India (AP)— The earthquake toll in southwest India rose to 115 today as search parties fanned out to isolated hamlets in the Western Ghat mountains. There were estimates as many as 200 may have died.

More than 1,600 injured persons were seeking treatment. Hospitals in Karad Sangli and Satara, the towns closest to the disaster area, were unable to take more patients.

The quake rocked the Koynanager area 150 miles southeast of Bombay before dawn Monday. Many were killed when houses built of granite blocks collapsed on them as they slept.

Only a few tin sheds were reported left standing in Koyna, a town of 10,000 near the Koyna Dam. The dam, one of the largest hydroelectric projects in Asia, apparently was not damaged, but transmission lines to Bombay were broken and 700,000 factory employes were put out of work, perhaps for several days.

Among the dead were M. P. Sarnaik, executive engineer of the dam, and his wife.

Mild earth tremors were felt again early today in Poona and Bombay but there was no report of additional damage.

Convoys carrying medical personnel, relief workers, food and medicine proceeded slowly today over badly damaged roads into the quake area.

The quake, which was recorded by the New Delhi meteorological station at 7.5 on the Righter scale, rocked a 400-mile strip of India's southwest coastal area from Surat, in Gujarat state, to Mangalore near the Kerala state border.

2-In-1 Launch Set Wednesday In Orbit Of Sun

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A robot "interplanetary weatherman" named Pioneer 8 is poised to rocket into orbit around the sun Wednesday as the prime payload of a tricky two-in-one launch attempt.

En route to the solar orbit, a second spacecraft—called TTS for test and training satellite—is to pop off the side of Pioneer's sleek Delta booster rocket and become a satellite of earth, where it can serve as an orbiting radio relay station to test gear in America's Apollo man-in-space tracking network.

Pioneer 8, scheduled to blast off at 9:08 a.m. EST Wednesday, could provide the best information yet on how great a danger the sun's radiation poses to astronauts. The drum-shaped spacecraft is to zip into a sun-circling orbit between that of Earth and Mars, where its instruments can radio information about the solar wind, cosmic rays and magnetic and electric fields in interplanetary space.

Planners of the nation's man-to-the-moon program are primarily interested in the solar wind, a great radiation storm that originates from huge thermonu clear reactions that erupt beneath the seething surface of the sun.

Wednesday Meeting Set By School Group

Employes of the East Liverpool Schools have been invited to a meeting with a representative of the Ohio Association of Public School Employes Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Westgate school.

Refuses To Engage In Any Race

U.S. Seen With 5-1 Edge In Ocean Wealth Probing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal official estimates the United States holds a 5-1 edge over all other nations combined in its ability to probe the largely untapped—and politically disputed—wealth of the oceans.

But even with that capability, says Dr. Edward Wenk, the United States has refused to engage in any race for control of the vast animal, vegetable and mineral wealth believed hidden in the oceans' depths.

Wenk, executive secretary of the National Council on Marine Resources and Engineering Development and President Johnson's chief adviser on oceanic matters, told The Associated Press:

"You can't say we're winning the race for the oceans because there is no race. No nation can come close to matching our progress in this field. Our exploration capability is greater than that of all other nations combined and multiplied by five.

"But President Johnson has made it clear that we will not get involved in any colonization race for the deep oceans and sea beds."

The question of which nations have what rights in the ocean's depths was laid in August before the United Nations.

The Mediterranean island nation of Malta proposed to the General Assembly that an international agency take jurisdiction over the sea beds, with the net financial gain from their exploitation "be used primarily to promote the development of poor countries."

Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, in rejecting the proposal, suggested instead the world body study the question of jurisdiction. Meanwhile no nation or agency would be given control and there would be an international program to determine what the seas hold that might be worth the effort and cost of recovering.

The debate that followed was expected to produce establishment this week or early next week of a U.N. committee to study the scientific, technical, economic, legal and other aspects of the question. The panel would report its findings to the next General Assembly session.

It would be the beginning of a process which the United States hopes may produce an ocean treaty similar to the treaties covering Antarctica and outer space, Wenk said.

Would Cut House Seats To 200

ConCon Officers Study Plan To Revise Charter

By WILLIAM E. DEIBLER

The proposal, introduced from the floor Monday, would reduce the number of seats in the House of Representatives from 203 to 200 and limit legislative sessions to 150 calendar days.

Lt. Gov. Raymond J. Broderick, convention president, said he delayed action on the proposal until it could be determined to which of the newly appointed committees it should be submitted for consideration.

However, other sources said a question of propriety had arisen, and the possibility existed that the proposal would be rejected. The reason: the provision calling for a time limit on legislative sessions would be beyond the convention's authority.

Meanwhile, Broderick was awaiting a legal opinion on the matter.

In another significant development Monday, when the convention began its second week of deliberations, Broderick announced the appointment of 16 co-chairmen of eight major committees and 232 committee assignments.

None of the 12 legislative leaders who are ex-officio convention delegates was named to a committee chairmanship.

Developments last week pointed up that many of the 150 elected delegates, in the interest of a nonpartisan convention, were opposed to legislative leaders being given committee chairmanships.

The legislators will not be without power, however, since Broderick appointed 8 of the 12 to the 16-member administration and finance committee that will control the convention's $1.5 million budget, including 230 staff jobs.

The 16 co-chairmen appointed Monday were:

Judiciary—William W. Scranton, Dalton, and Gustave G. Amsterdam, Philadelphia.

Administration and Finance—Guy G. Swope, Harrisburg, and Israel C. Bloom, Washington.

The eight major committees, along with the 16 subcommittees will do the bulk of the work of redrafting four key areas of the constitution.

Earthquake Toll Rises To 115 In India

BOMBAY, India (AP )— The earthquake toll in southwest India rose to 115 today as search parties fanned out to isolated hamlets in the Western Ghat mountains. There were estimates as many as 200 may have died.

More than 1,600 injured persons were seeking treatment. Hospitals in Karad Sangli and Satara, the towns closest to the disaster area, were unable to take more patients.

The quake rocked the Koynanager area 150 miles southeast of Bombay before dawn Monday. Many were killed when houses built of granite blocks collapsed on them as they slept.

Only a few tin sheds were reported left standing in Koyna, a town of 10,000 near the Koyna Dam. The dam, one of the largest hydroelectric projects in Asia, apparently was not damaged, but transmission lines to Bombay were broken and 700,000 factory employes were put out of work, perhaps for several days.

Among the dead were M. P. Sarnaik, executive engineer of the dam, and his wife.

Mild earth tremors were felt again early today in Poona and Bombay but there was no report of additional damage.

Convoys carrying medical personnel, relief workers, food and medicine proceeded slowly today over badly damaged roads into the quake area.

2-In-1 Launch Set Wednesday In Orbit Of Sun

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A robot "interplanetary weatherman" named Pioneer 8 is poised to rocket into orbit around the sun Wednesday as the prime payload of a tricky two-in-one launch attempt.

En route to the solar orbit, a second spacecraft—called TTS for test and training satellite—is to pop off the side of Pioneer's sleek Delta booster rocket and become a satellite of earth, where it can serve as an orbiting radio relay station to test gear in America's Apollo man-in-space tracking network.

Pioneer 8, scheduled to blast off at 9:08 a.m. EST Wednesday, could provide the best information yet on how great a danger the sun's radiation poses to astronauts. The drum-shaped spacecraft is to zip into a sun-circling orbit between that of Earth and Mars, where its instruments can radio information about the solar wind, cosmic rays and magnetic and electric fields in interplanetary space.

Planners of the nation's man-to-the-moon program are primarily interested in the solar wind, a great radiation storm that originates from huge thermonu clear reactions that erupt beneath the seething surface of the sun.

Refuses To Engage In Any Race

U.S. Seen With 5-1 Edge In Ocean Wealth Probing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal official estimates the United States holds a 5-1 edge over all other nations combined in its ability to probe the largely untapped—and politically disputed—wealth of the oceans.

But even with that capability, says Dr. Edward Wenk, the United States has refused to engage in any race for control of the vast animal, vegetable and mineral wealth believed hidden in the oceans' depths.

Wenk, executive secretary of the National Council on Marine Resources and Engineering Development and President Johnson's chief adviser on oceanic matters, told The Associated Press:

"You can't say we're winning the race for the oceans because there is no race. No nation can come close to matching our progress in this field. Our exploration capability is greater than that of all other nations combined and multiplied by five.

"But President Johnson has made it clear that we will not get involved in any colonization race for the deep oceans and sea beds."

The question of which nations have what rights in the ocean's depths was laid in August before the United Nations.

The Mediterranean island nation of Malta proposed to the General Assembly that an international agency take jurisdiction over the sea beds, with the net financial gain from their exploitation "be used primarily to promote the development of poor countries."

Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, in rejecting the proposal, suggested instead the world body study the question of jurisdiction. Meanwhile no nation or agency would be given control and there would be an international program to determine what the seas hold that might be worth the effort and cost of recovering.

The debate that followed was expected to produce establishment this week or early next week of a U.N. committee to study the scientific, technical, economic, legal and other aspects of the question. The panel would report its findings to the next General Assembly session.

It would be the beginning of a process which the United States hopes may produce an ocean treaty similar to the treaties covering Antarctica and outer space, Wenk said.

Lisbon Area News

Mrs. Esther DeTemple 424-5965

LISBON — Eagles lodges and their auxiliaries of District 8 held separate meetings here Sunday — lodge members at the aerie home and auxiliary members at Democratic headquarters.

John Sterling, a past state officer and present mayor of North Baltimore, addressed the lodge members.

During the Auxiliary session, the attendance prize was awarded the Youngstown group, the membership trophy the Lisbon group and the "delinquent" trophy the Columbiana group.

Following the business sessions, dinner was served 125 from both groups by the host Auxiliary.

Dancing to Kenny Nichols orchestra from East Liverpool was held from 7 to 10.

Senior Citizens Meet

An impressive service marked the closing exercises when the Senior Citizen Group met Monday afternoon at Democratic headquarters, with Mrs. Ruth Willis, chaplain, presenting the second phase of the lighting of the advent candles.

Mrs. Velva Hively, president, opened the meeting with a thought for the day.

Inclement weather held down the attendance to 42.

Mrs. Betty Mowery, Mrs. Mary Lewis, Miss Elva Hinten and Mrs. Esther DeTemple served lunch. Cards followed.

Class Holds Annual Party

Dinner was served at 6 by a committee comprised of Mrs. Artie Anderson, Mrs. Myrtle Toot, Miss Laura McKee and Mrs. George Stuckey.

The singing of carols opened a brief business session conducted by Mrs. Stuckey, president, who also led devotions. Members voted to remember shut-ins of the class with a plant at Christmas.

The next meeting will be March 11.

Legion Group Meets

Past presidents of the American Legion Auxiliary held a 6:30 dinner at the Hotel Wick with 12 members and a guest, Mrs. Vance Brinker, attending.

The table was decorated in keeping with the season, a pine and poinsettia arrangement, with red tapers at either side, and individual place favors.

A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Clarence Ball, during which a donation of $20 was approved for the Lions Club clearing house fund for needy families at Christmas.

Mrs. Webber led devotions and presented a Christmas story. A gift exchange and a social hour followed.

Mrs. Byron Griffith of W. Spruce St. will receive the group Jan. 8.

Bethia Southwick Meeting Highlighted By Folk Songs

Mrs. George Lawton presented "Folk Songs of America" during the program when Bethia Southwick Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met at the home of Mrs. Isabel Hart on Aten Ave.

She used the organ and auto harp for accompaniment. The background of the songs from Colonial days through the Civil War was reviewed.

THE MEETING opened according to the DAR ritual and Mrs. Ford S. Ball led devotions, using the Christmas story from the Gospels of Matthew and Luke. She also read the Christmas message of Mrs. William H. Sullivan, president general of the national DAR, and followed with prayer.

The pledge of allegiance was led by Mrs. Robert W. Faulk and the group sang two selections, accompanied by Mrs. Hart.

Reports were heard from Mrs. George B. Fraser on magazine subscriptions and advertising; Mrs. Carolyn Vogel, DAR schools chairman, and Mrs. Ball, Indian schools on boxes sent. Mrs. Edwin Wilson, national defense chairman, reported on "Bill of Rights Day" Dec. 15 and urged members to fly their flag that day. She also discussed the "Cross of Nails" observance by churches of the area.

CHRISTMAS gifts were exchanged, with Mrs. Clarence Green and Mrs. Janet Moore in charge. Carols were sung by the group, with Mrs. Lawton at the organ. Recorded Christmas music was played during the social hour.

Decorations in keeping with the season were used in the home and a collection of angels on a tiered glass tray centered the buffet table. Mrs. Moore assisted the hostess in serving.

The annual business meeting will be held Jan. 12 at 7:46 p.m. in Carnegia Library. Roll call will be "An Ohio Historical Spot I Have Visited."

approach to resolving inner-city dropout difficulties."

The governor also spoke, and said, "while we shall continue to give emphasis to quality education at the elementary, secondary and higher education levels, we must also recognize that vocational and technical education must be upgraded if we are to prepare our young people for jobs."

"I am convinced that educators everywhere must stop discriminating against vocational and technical education. Comparatively few of the total number of jobs in Ohio require a college education yet very nearly our entire student population of 2.8 million are being prepared through high school for college entry," he added.

Lisbon Area News

Mrs. Esther DeTemple 424-5965

LISBON — Eagles lodges and their auxiliaries of District 8 held separate meetings here Sunday — lodge members at the aerie home and auxiliary members at Democratic headquarters.

John Sterling, a past state officer and present mayor of North Baltimore, addressed the lodge members.

During the Auxiliary session, the attendance prize was awarded the Youngstown group, the membership trophy the Lisbon group and the "delinquent" trophy the Columbiana group.

Following the business sessions, dinner was served 125 from both groups by the host Auxiliary.

Dancing to Kenny Nichols orchestra from East Liverpool was held from 7 to 10.

Senior Citizens Meet

An impressive service marked the closing exercises when the Senior Citizen Group met Monday afternoon at Democratic headquarters, with Mrs. Ruth Willis, chaplain, presenting the second phase of the lighting of the advent candles.

Mrs. Velva Hively, president, opened the meeting with a thought for the day.

Inclement weather held down the attendance to 42.

Mrs. Betty Mowery, Mrs. Mary Lewis, Miss Elva Hinten and Mrs. Esther DeTemple served lunch. Cards followed.

Class Holds Annual Party

Dinner was served at 6 by a committee comprised of Mrs. Artie Anderson, Mrs. Myrtle Toot, Miss Laura McKee and Mrs. George Stuckey.

The singing of carols opened a brief business session conducted by Mrs. Stuckey, president, who also led devotions. Members voted to remember shut-ins of the class with a plant at Christmas.

The next meeting will be March 11.

Legion Group Meets

Past presidents of the American Legion Auxiliary held a 6:30 dinner at the Hotel Wick with 12 members and a guest, Mrs. Vance Brinker, attending.

The table was decorated in keeping with the season, a pine and poinsettia arrangement, with red tapers at either side, and individual place favors.

A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Clarence Ball, during which a donation of $20 was approved for the Lions Club clearing house fund for needy families at Christmas.

Mrs. Webber led devotions and presented a Christmas story. A gift exchange and a social hour followed.

Mrs. Byron Griffith of W. Spruce St. will receive the group Jan. 8.

Lisbon Personals

Airman Daniel Allmon is visiting with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Hively of W. Washington St. Allmon, who has been stationed at the Eglin base in Florida, will leave for Thailand Dec. 21. He is the son of Herbert and Margaret Allmon, former Lisbon residents and now of Claypool, Ind.

Bethia Southwick Meeting Highlighted By Folk Songs

Mrs. George Lawton presented "Folk Songs of America" during the program when Bethia Southwick Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met at the home of Mrs. Isabel Hart on Aten Ave.

She used the organ and auto harp for accompaniment. The background of the songs from Colonial days through the Civil War was reviewed.

THE MEETING opened according to the DAR ritual and Mrs. Ford S. Ball led devotions, using the Christmas story from the Gospels of Matthew and Luke. She also read the Christmas message of Mrs. William H. Sullivan, president general of the national DAR, and followed with prayer.

The pledge of allegiance was led by Mrs. Robert W. Faulk and the group sang two selections, accompanied by Mrs. Hart.

Reports were heard from Mrs. George B. Fraser on magazine subscriptions and advertising; Mrs. Carolyn Vogel, DAR schools chairman, and Mrs. Ball, Indian schools on boxes sent. Mrs. Edwin Wilson, national defense chairman, reported on "Bill of Rights Day" Dec. 15 and urged members to fly their flag that day. She also discussed the "Cross of Nails" observance by churches of the area.

CHRISTMAS gifts were exchanged, with Mrs. Clarence Green and Mrs. Janet Moore in charge. Carols were sung by the group, with Mrs. Lawton at the organ. Recorded Christmas music was played during the social hour.

Decorations in keeping with the season were used in the home and a collection of angels on a tiered glass tray centered the buffet table. Mrs. Moore assisted the hostess in serving.

The annual business meeting will be held Jan. 12 at 7:46 p.m. in Carnegia Library. Roll call will be "An Ohio Historical Spot I Have Visited."

The governor also spoke, and said, "while we shall continue to give emphasis to quality education at the elementary, secondary and higher education levels, we must also recognize that vocational and technical education must be upgraded if we are to prepare our young people for jobs."

"I am convinced that educators everywhere must stop discriminating against vocational and technical education. Comparatively few of the total number of jobs in Ohio require a college education yet very nearly our entire student population of 2.8 million are being prepared through high school for college entry," he added.

Council Hears Church Member

Downspouts Sifted Again During Chester Meeting

The problem of downspouts draining into sewer lines received further attention when Chester Council met Monday night.

Otha Cunningham, representing the Church of Christ, questioned the order calling for the removal of downspouts in the vicinity of 2nd St. and Virginia Ave. from the lines. Cunningham, a member of the church board, said such action merely would place the water in the streets in that area, thus creating a new problem.

"AND WE GOT a pretty good slam in the paper," Cunningham added, taking issue with stories concerning complaints of residents in the area that their sewers back up during a heavy rain.

He pointed out that the article failed to stress "cooperation with the city" in attempting to rectify the problem.

Mayor Burton Ward and Council members pointed out the water board has been directed by a representative of the West Virginia Pollution Department and the board's attorney that the downspouts must be removed.

Cunningham agreed the city has little choice than to order the changes in light of the instruction of its attorney and the state representative, but added he believes there should be some suggestion as to where to drain the water. He said he fears if the church drains its gutters into the street, water will seep into the Bell Research building across the road, since the pavement is higher than the level of the building.

No solution was advanced last night, although Councilman Percy Willison agreed Council has "got to do something."

In an effort to pursue the problem further and to give residents opposing the order on downspouts time to express their views, Mayor Burton Ward scheduled a special meeting of the Water and Sewage Board for Monday night at 7:30.

MEANWHILE, the city water and sewage departments have scheduled smoke bomb tests Wednesday morning to determine what buildings and homes in the area of 2nd St. and Virginia Ave. currently have downspouts hooked into the sewer lines.

Lewis Govey, water superintendent, announced the tests last week after Douglas Foley of the state Water Pollution Department visited Chester and notified members the downspouts must be removed. He also told officials he will return in January for a re-check of the situation.

As Cunningham noted, the city is "caught between that woman (a resident who initiated the complaint) and the man in Charleston."

In other business, Council ordered Louisiana Ave. between 3rd and 4th Sts. closed during snowy weather to provide an area for sled riding. Members agreed it is a safer stretch than the same area on Indiana Ave., which the city has closed for that purpose in past years.

Auto Injures East End Man Dodging Bike

An East End man told police he was dodging a youth who attempted to run him down deliberately with a bicycle when he dashed into the path of a slow - moving car on Virginia Ave. at Pennsylvania Ave. Monday night.

Elmer M. Boley, 49, of 1094 Pennsylvania Ave. was taken to City Hospital with possible injuries of the left leg after he was bumped by a 1963 model sedan operated by Ed Williams, 55, of 1089½ Mapletree St., officers said. The mishap was timed at 6:38.

Boley explained the bizarre incident to Patrolman Karl W. Samples, the investigating officer. He said he was walking east along Pennsylvania Ave. after leaving a pharmacy near Mulberry St. when the youth riding the bicycle on the sidewalk attempted to run him down deliberately. He said he narrowly averted being struck twice.

Boley said as he neared Virginia Ave. the boy on the bicycle made another attempt to strike him. Running to avoid the bike, he dashed into the street and into the path of Williams' auto, he said. The car struck him on the left leg, knocking him about four feet, he related. Boley said he crawled along the street to get clear in case the motorist backed his car.

Boley told police the mishap was not the motorist's fault. He was corroborated by a witness, Richard Adams of 1012 St. George St. He said he saw the pedestrian dash swiftly "right in front of the car." He estimated the auto's speed at 10 miles an hour.

Williams told police he did not see the pedestrian and did not realize the man had been struck until he heard a noise as he rounded the corner. He halted his car and found his car had hit Boley, he said.

2 Teachers Hired, 3 Quit As Midland Board Meets

Two teachers were hired and three resignations were accepted when the Board of Directors of Midland Public Schools met Monday night at Lincoln High School.

Maurice J. Newman presided.

Miss Tanya Drake of Shippingport was hired as elementary teacher to replace Miss Gertrude Bonzo, who retired Nov. 30 following 35½ years' service. Miss Drake will be graduated Jan. 22 from Clarion State Teachers College and will begin her duties at Midland Jan. 23. She is certified in elementary education and elementary library science.

MISS ENID Jane Retzart was hired as secondary Spanish teacher, effective Jan. 15, to replace Mrs. Christine Torchia, resigned. The board waived the 60-day required notice in the case of Mrs. Torchia, who is under contract, but at the suggestion of Supt. Charles P. Henderson she will be requested to teach at least until Jan. 15, if possible, until her replacement arrives. Miss Retzart is at present a full-time substitute at Butler High School.

Both Miss Drake and Miss Retzart will receive a beginning salary of $5,100 annually. Miss Retzart's educational background includes Gordon College and Slippery Rock State College. She also was hired at a supplemental salary of $100 as cheerleader sponsor the the remainder of the year.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Anne Della Valle as remedial reading specialist effective Dec. 21. She will visit several months in California with her family. She requested she be considered for substitute work upon her return in the spring.

Mrs. Lola Baich, Midland elementary school secretary, resigned effective Dec. 30. She will join her husband in Louisville, Ky., where he is employed.

THE MINUTES of the last regular meeting and a reorganizational meeting Dec. 4 were read by Miss Bernice Coffin, secretary. Newman was elected president for the third consecutive term, with John Uccellini, vice president. Leslie B. Roach was appointed temporary chairman of the elections. Atty. Frank B. Suffoletta was re-elected solicitor at an annual salary of $2,000. James Cerasi, Edward Cilli and James Morrison, re-elected to the board in the Nov. 7 election, received the oath of office.

Mrs. Norman Vanlier, Mrs. Samuel Taylor and Mrs. Edward Barlow of the Midland chapter of the NAACP asked the board questions relative to school attendance and disciplinary measures.

Henderson referred assessed evaluation revisions to the finance committee for discussion and report.

Insurance on all school boilers were renewed with the McGeehan Agency at $2,038. The boilers are insured by the Hartford Steam Boiler and Insurance Co.

A treasurer's report showed $410,239 on hand in all bank accounts. Cash receipts totaling $1,635 were deposited in proper accounts. Deposited for taxes in November was $7,538. General bills totaling $11,388 were paid. At the recommendation of the trustees of the Carnegie Free Library, a new book list totaling $794 was approved.

Samiel Rosatone, maintenance supervisor, reported that a book storage room has been completed on the first floor of the high school and the office of the athletic director has been moved downstairs off the lobby by the old gym.

THE BOARD received a quotation letter on a 60-watt amplifier for the new gym at $219 from the Pence Radio of Beaver. At the request of Cilli, the secretary will address a letter to the company inquiring if the amplifier can be installed on a trial basis.

The Midland Catholic Youth Organization team received permission to use the old gym for practice sessions and Saturday games "under proper supervision and adherence to rules."

The board approved use of two additional classrooms by the Midland Division of Crucible Steel at the rate of $5 per evening for education purposes.

It was announced that rewiring of the shop area will be delayed until the new budget is prepared in the spring.

Permissions granted included Henry J. Kuzma, high school principal, to attend the National Association of Secondary Principals convention at Atlantic City Feb. 10-14, with expenses not to exceed $175; Raymond Stowittzky to attend the National Guidance Counselors convention at Detroit, April 8-11, with expenses not to exceed $125, and Miss Eugenia O'Hara and Charles Polce, physical education instructors, who attended a physical education conference at Philadelphia last Thursday through Saturday.

THE BOARD approved a field trip for Midland's first and second graders to Old Economy at Ambridge to view their annual Christmas program Dec. 13. The children will be chaperoned by members of the parent - teacher associations. Roach urged that all pay a visit to this local historical spot.

In closing the meeting, Henderson announced that the Community Culture Committee will present its second concert Sunday at 3 p.m. at the high school. Participating will be three choirs and a brass choir and various soloists. Featured soloist will be the Rev. Alexander Haines, pastor of the Greene Valley Methodist Church, and the Georgetown Methodist Church. Rev. Haines, a native of Bombay, India, formerly sang with the Billy Graham Crusade.

He recommended the three choirs and the brass choir be granted permission to perform Christmas carols Dec. 20 at the Beaver County Courthouse at the invitation of the commissioners, at the Passavant Home and the Beaver County Home and Hospital. Permission was granted.

The board will meet again Jan. 8 at 8 p.m.

Board Will Meet

LISBON — The Lisbon Board of Education will consider setting up an after-school driver-training course when it meets tonight at 7:30 in the administration building. Supt. Joe W. Driscoll said 132 students have signed for the course.

'Partnership' Stressed During Weirton Event

WEIRTON — A unique partnership between management and the men who make and finish steel has put the Weirton Steel Division of the National Steel Corp. in the forefront of the industry, members of the firm's 25-Year Club were told Saturday night.

Dr. J. L. Thompson, director of medical services, spoke at the annual winter meeting of the club in the Millsop Community Center and presented service awards to 268 new members in recognition of 25 years of service with the company.

He said company management has had the foresight over the years to make the changes necessary "to keep ahead of competition, keep equipment up to date and protect the jobs of employes" while employes have been "loyal, hard - working and proud of their work, their company and their community."

This ability to work together, he added, "has made Weirton Steel a great company, known around the world for the quality of its products and for its ability to deliver the goods. It is this unique partnership between the leaders and the men whose job it is to make and finish and sell steel that has put Weirton Steel in the forefront of the industry."

Harry Bickerstaff of the Sheet Mill was elected president of the club, succeeding Andrew Billie of the General Office. Other officers for 1968 are: Otto Price, first vice president; John Phillips, second vice president; Harold Burns, secretary; Ernest Sabik, assistant secretary; R. H. Wilson, treasurer, and George Price, assistant treasurer. Kermit McIntrye is the club's service officer.

Council Hears Church Member

Downspouts Sifted Again During Chester Meeting

The problem of downspouts draining into sewer lines received further attention when Chester Council met Monday night.

Otha Cunningham, representing the Church of Christ, questioned the order calling for the removal of downspouts in the vicinity of 2nd St. and Virginia Ave. from the lines. Cunningham, a member of the church board, said such action merely would place the water in the streets in that area, thus creating a new problem.

"AND WE GOT a pretty good slam in the paper," Cunningham added, taking issue with stories concerning complaints of residents in the area that their sewers back up during a heavy rain.

He pointed out that the article failed to stress "cooperation with the city" in attempting to rectify the problem.

Mayor Burton Ward and Council members pointed out the water board has been directed by a representative of the West Virginia Pollution Department and the board's attorney that the downspouts must be removed.

Cunningham agreed the city has little choice than to order the changes in light of the instruction of its attorney and the state representative, but added he believes there should be some suggestion as to where to drain the water. He said he fears if the church drains its gutters into the street, water will seep into the Bell Research building across the road, since the pavement is higher than the level of the building.

No solution was advanced last night, although Councilman Percy Willison agreed Council has "got to do something."

In an effort to pursue the problem further and to give residents opposing the order on downspouts time to express their views, Mayor Burton Ward scheduled a special meeting of the Water and Sewage Board for Monday night at 7:30.

MEANWHILE, the city water and sewage departments have scheduled smoke bomb tests Wednesday morning to determine what buildings and homes in the area of 2nd St. and Virginia Ave. currently have downspouts hooked into the sewer lines.

Lewis Govey, water superintendent, announced the tests last week after Douglas Foley of the state Water Pollution Department visited Chester and notified members the downspouts must be removed. He also told officials he will return in January for a re-check of the situation.

As Cunningham noted, the city is "caught between that woman (a resident who initiated the complaint) and the man in Charleston."

In other business, Council ordered Louisiana Ave. between 3rd and 4th Sts. closed during snowy weather to provide an area for sled riding. Members agreed it is a safer stretch than the same area on Indiana Ave., which the city has closed for that purpose in past years.

Auto Injures East End Man Dodging Bike

An East End man told police he was dodging a youth who attempted to run him down deliberately with a bicycle when he dashed into the path of a slow - moving car on Virginia Ave. at Pennsylvania Ave. Monday night.

Elmer M. Boley, 49, of 1094 Pennsylvania Ave. was taken to City Hospital with possible injuries of the left leg after he was bumped by a 1963 model sedan operated by Ed Williams, 55, of 1089½ Mapletree St., officers said. The mishap was timed at 6:38.

Boley explained the bizarre incident to Patrolman Karl W. Samples, the investigating officer. He said he was walking east along Pennsylvania Ave. after leaving a pharmacy near Mulberry St. when the youth riding the bicycle on the sidewalk attempted to run him down deliberately. He said he narrowly averted being struck twice.

Boley said as he neared Virginia Ave. the boy on the bicycle made another attempt to strike him. Running to avoid the bike, he dashed into the street and into the path of Williams' auto, he said. The car struck him on the left leg, knocking him about four feet, he related. Boley said he crawled along the street to get clear in case the motorist backed his car.

Boley told police the mishap was not the motorist's fault. He was corroborated by a witness, Richard Adams of 1012 St. George St. He said he saw the pedestrian dash swiftly "right in front of the car." He estimated the auto's speed at 10 miles an hour.

Williams told police he did not see the pedestrian and did not realize the man had been struck until he heard a noise as he rounded the corner. He halted his car and found his car had hit Boley, he said.

2 Teachers Hired, 3 Quit As Midland Board Meets

Two teachers were hired and three resignations were accepted when the Board of Directors of Midland Public Schools met Monday night at Lincoln High School.

Maurice J. Newman presided.

Miss Tanya Drake of Shippingport was hired as elementary teacher to replace Miss Gertrude Bonzo, who retired Nov. 30 following 35½ years' service. Miss Drake will be graduated Jan. 22 from Clarion State Teachers College and will begin her duties at Midland Jan. 23. She is certified in elementary education and elementary library science.

MISS ENID Jane Retzart was hired as secondary Spanish teacher, effective Jan. 15, to replace Mrs. Christine Torchia, resigned. The board waived the 60-day required notice in the case of Mrs. Torchia, who is under contract, but at the suggestion of Supt. Charles P. Henderson she will be requested to teach at least until Jan. 15, if possible, until her replacement arrives. Miss Retzart is at present a full-time substitute at Butler High School.

Both Miss Drake and Miss Retzart will receive a beginning salary of $5,100 annually. Miss Retzart's educational background includes Gordon College and Slippery Rock State College. She also was hired at a supplemental salary of $100 as cheerleader sponsor the the remainder of the year.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Anne Della Valle as remedial reading specialist effective Dec. 21. She will visit several months in California with her family. She requested she be considered for substitute work upon her return in the spring.

Mrs. Lola Baich, Midland elementary school secretary, resigned effective Dec. 30. She will join her husband in Louisville, Ky., where he is employed.

THE MINUTES of the last regular meeting and a reorganizational meeting Dec. 4 were read by Miss Bernice Coffin, secretary. Newman was elected president for the third consecutive term, with John Uccellini, vice president. Leslie B. Roach was appointed temporary chairman of the elections. Atty. Frank B. Suffoletta was re-elected solicitor at an annual salary of $2,000. James Cerasi, Edward Cilli and James Morrison, re-elected to the board in the Nov. 7 election, received the oath of office.

Mrs. Norman Vanlier, Mrs. Samuel Taylor and Mrs. Edward Barlow of the Midland chapter of the NAACP asked the board questions relative to school attendance and disciplinary measures.

Henderson referred assessed evaluation revisions to the finance committee for discussion and report.

Insurance on all school boilers were renewed with the McGeehan Agency at $2,038. The boilers are insured by the Hartford Steam Boiler and Insurance Co.

A treasurer's report showed $410,239 on hand in all bank accounts. Cash receipts totaling $1,635 were deposited in proper accounts. Deposited for taxes in November was $7,538. General bills totaling $11,388 were paid. At the recommendation of the trustees of the Carnegie Free Library, a new book list totaling $794 was approved.

Samiel Rosatone, maintenance supervisor, reported that a book storage room has been completed on the first floor of the high school and the office of the athletic director has been moved downstairs off the lobby by the old gym.

THE BOARD received a quotation letter on a 60-watt amplifier for the new gym at $219 from the Pence Radio of Beaver. At the request of Cilli, the secretary will address a letter to the company inquiring if the amplifier can be installed on a trial basis.

The Midland Catholic Youth Organization team received permission to use the old gym for practice sessions and Saturday games "under proper supervision and adherence to rules."

The board approved use of two additional classrooms by the Midland Division of Crucible Steel at the rate of $5 per evening for education purposes.

It was announced that rewiring of the shop area will be delayed until the new budget is prepared in the spring.

Permissions granted included Henry J. Kuzma, high school principal, to attend the National Association of Secondary Principals convention at Atlantic City Feb. 10-14, with expenses not to exceed $175; Raymond Stowittzky to attend the National Guidance Counselors convention at Detroit, April 8-11, with expenses not to exceed $125, and Miss Eugenia O'Hara and Charles Polce, physical education instructors, who attended a physical education conference at Philadelphia last Thursday through Saturday.

THE BOARD approved a field trip for Midland's first and second graders to Old Economy at Ambridge to view their annual Christmas program Dec. 13. The children will be chaperoned by members of the parent - teacher associations. Roach urged that all pay a visit to this local historical spot.

In closing the meeting, Henderson announced that the Community Culture Committee will present its second concert Sunday at 3 p.m. at the high school. Participating will be three choirs and a brass choir and various soloists. Featured soloist will be the Rev. Alexander Haines, pastor of the Greene Valley Methodist Church, and the Georgetown Methodist Church. Rev. Haines, a native of Bombay, India, formerly sang with the Billy Graham Crusade.

He recommended the three choirs and the brass choir be granted permission to perform Christmas carols Dec. 20 at the Beaver County Courthouse at the invitation of the commissioners, at the Passavant Home and the Beaver County Home and Hospital. Permission was granted.

3 Youths Get Probation In Theft Action

LISBON — Three East Liverpool teen - agers admitted stealing tools Nov. 23 from Dick Smith's auto body shop on E. 2nd St. at arraignment Monday before Judge Louis Tobin in Lisbon.

The boys said they decided to take the tools, attempt to sell them and split the money. Police apprehended one boy as he was leaving the building. The other two fled, but surrendered later at city hall.

Judge Tobin sentenced them to the Ohio Youth Commission, but then placed them on probation under the following terms: $50 fine, not to associate with each other, 5 p.m. curfew until Jan. 1, 7 p.m. curfew during January and February and 9 p.m. curfew for remainder of school year, attend school every day, attend church each Sunday and apologize to Dick Smith for taking his property.

The two boys with drivers' licenses had to surrender them for the remainder of the school year. The other youth was ordered not to apply for an operator's permit until next July 1.

Workers End Brief Brass Firm Walkout

Workers returned to their jobs this morning at the Ohio Brass Co. in Newell after a dispute Monday morning which resulted in a walkout.

Arnold Kozlowski, plant manager, said production was not shutdown during the period, although about 100 of the 129 employes walked off the job in what union officials described as "a misunderstanding."

Kozlowski said employes of both the day and afternoon turns were off the job, but production returned to normal today when all workers showed up this morning. He termed the action "an illegal walkout," and added he was unsure if the grievance has been settled. "The company won't discuss the matter as long as workers are off the job," he added.

Thomas Potts, president of local 2283, International Association of Machinists, said the entire dispute stemmed from a misunderstanding when some workers didn't follow a certain procedure.

Man Accused In Death Case Asks Counsel

LISBON — Common Pleas Court is considering the appointment of counsel to represent Lowell N. Conrad, 34, of 713 Mechanic St., Alliance, charged with slaying his wife, Chrystal, 34.

A first - degree murder charge was filed Monday in Northwest County Court at Salem by Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan. The affidavit states the defendant "did purposely and of deliberate and premeditated malice kill Chrystal Ann Conrad."

The sheriff said the defendant told him he wants an attourney, but has no money to employ one. Judge Joel H. Sharp of Common Pleas Court, advised of this yesterday, said he wants to discuss the appointment with Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who will be trying criminal cases during the January term of court.

Mrs. Conrad died late Sunday morning with a bullet in the head. Her body, a bullet hole above the left eye, was in Conrad's 1967 car when he stopped about noon at the home of a friend, Policeman John Sommers of Salem, and gave him a pistol.

The couple had been separated since early in November and she and their four children (two of them hers by a previous marriage) were living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Zeller of Buck Rd. in Knox Township.

The children were at church with their grandmother when Conrad arrived late in the morning. Zeller told authorities his daughter went with Conrad and was driving the car when they left. She sued Conrad for divorce last June in Stark County, charging gross neglect.

3 Youths Get Probation In Theft Action

LISBON — Three East Liverpool teen - agers admitted stealing tools Nov. 23 from Dick Smith's auto body shop on E. 2nd St. at arraignment Monday before Judge Louis Tobin in Lisbon.

The boys said they decided to take the tools, attempt to sell them and split the money. Police apprehended one boy as he was leaving the building. The other two fled, but surrendered later at city hall.

Judge Tobin sentenced them to the Ohio Youth Commission, but then placed them on probation under the following terms: $50 fine, not to associate with each other, 5 p.m. curfew until Jan. 1, 7 p.m. curfew during January and February and 9 p.m. curfew for remainder of school year, attend school every day, attend church each Sunday and apologize to Dick Smith for taking his property.

The two boys with drivers' licenses had to surrender them for the remainder of the school year. The other youth was ordered not to apply for an operator's permit until next July 1.

Workers End Brief Brass Firm Walkout

Workers returned to their jobs this morning at the Ohio Brass Co. in Newell after a dispute Monday morning which resulted in a walkout.

Arnold Kozlowski, plant manager, said production was not shutdown during the period, although about 100 of the 129 employes walked off the job in what union officials described as "a misunderstanding."

Kozlowski said employes of both the day and afternoon turns were off the job, but production returned to normal today when all workers showed up this morning. He termed the action "an illegal walkout," and added he was unsure if the grievance has been settled. "The company won't discuss the matter as long as workers are off the job," he added.

Thomas Potts, president of local 2283, International Association of Machinists, said the entire dispute stemmed from a misunderstanding when some workers didn't follow a certain procedure.

Man Accused In Death Case Asks Counsel

LISBON — Common Pleas Court is considering the appointment of counsel to represent Lowell N. Conrad, 34, of 713 Mechanic St., Alliance, charged with slaying his wife, Chrystal, 34.

A first - degree murder charge was filed Monday in Northwest County Court at Salem by Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan. The affidavit states the defendant "did purposely and of deliberate and premeditated malice kill Chrystal Ann Conrad."

The sheriff said the defendant told him he wants an attourney, but has no money to employ one. Judge Joel H. Sharp of Common Pleas Court, advised of this yesterday, said he wants to discuss the appointment with Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who will be trying criminal cases during the January term of court.

Mrs. Conrad died late Sunday morning with a bullet in the head. Her body, a bullet hole above the left eye, was in Conrad's 1967 car when he stopped about noon at the home of a friend, Policeman John Sommers of Salem, and gave him a pistol.

The couple had been separated since early in November and she and their four children (two of them hers by a previous marriage) were living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Zeller of Buck Rd. in Knox Township.

The children were at church with their grandmother when Conrad arrived late in the morning. Zeller told authorities his daughter went with Conrad and was driving the car when they left. She sued Conrad for divorce last June in Stark County, charging gross neglect.

DEAR HELOISE: After wearing new shoes for several hours, I often find them uncomfortable, yet on the carpet in the shoe salon they seemed to fit fine. Now I have a foolproof method of testing new shoes.

After I reach home I try them on again. Before walking, however, I slip a pair of my husband's heavy socks over the shoes to keep the soles clean and to prevent any scratches.

If my feet start hurting, back to the store they go and I exchange them for a larger size.

DEAR HELOISE: I could not find matching binding for my wool blankets.

So I ripped off all the old binding and crocheted a big blanket stitch on each end of our blankets.(For those who don't crochet, it can also be done with a needle and heavy crocket thread.)

I keep these cards in a metal recipe box, a separate card for each person. When one card becomes torn and old, it's easily replaced with a new one.

Bill Eyes County Option In Liquor Sales On Sunday

HARRISBURG (AP)—Senate noses are being counted on a bill to provide a county option for Sunday liquor sales.

Under the Senate measure, which is in position for a final vote, each county would be permitted to hold a referendum on the question.

If the referendum were to pass, special licenses would be issued only to existing liquor license holders whose food sales contitute 55 per cent or more of their gross sales.

The hours for liquor sales each Sunday would be from 1 p.m. to 10 p.m.

"The Democratic caucus consideres this an open bill," Senate, Minority Leader Ernest P. Kline commented. "There has been no formal caucus action taken. Each member will be free to vote as he sees fit."

Chief calendar action in the Senate on Monday was passage of a bill to authorize the licensing of a fifth harness racing corporation. No debate preceded the 27-12 vote on the bill, which then went to Gov. Shafer.

Ohio Assembly Pre-Yule Talks Are Ruled Out

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio legislators fearful of a special legislative session to deal with Ohio's congressional redistricting problem before Christmas may relax. There won't be one.

Legislative officials said Monday after conferring with Gov. James A. Rhodes that the legislature will not meet at least until the first of the year, if then. Meanwhile, leaders said they would name a committee to get to work on a new district plan.

But House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess R-4 Wood refused to rule out a possibility that the lawmakers may return to the Statehouse two weeks earlier than the Jan. 15 date set earlier.

The legislature has been in recess since last August, but a U. S. Supreme Court decision last week knocked out Ohio's present redistricting plan and raised a question about next year's congressional elections

Ohio's primary election filing deadline is Feb. 7. But it was agreed in earlier discussions that the date can be extended by enactment of a statute that also could put off the May 7 primary.

$367,970 Listed For County Food Stamps In Year

LISBON — Low - income families in Columbiana County received bonus stamps worth $132,948 during the first 12 months of the Federal Food Stamp Program.

Wilbur Warren, program supervisor, said the county had 6,544 cases (19,335 persons) in the program initiated Dec. 1, 1966.

Warren emphasized the $132,948 in bonus stamps would not have been available for food for these families without this program.

He said last month showed the second largest participation, with 785 cases (2,427 persons). The households bought $26,949 worth of stamps, and received bonus stamps worth $14,934 for a total of $41,833.

Strong Winds Damage Shelby County Homes

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP) — The roof was ripped off a brick home in Shelby County Monday as strong winds whipped through the county, causing other damage, but no injuries, Sheriff Richard Burns said.

The roof was torn off the home of Tom O'Leary, four miles south of Sidney. O'Leary and his family were at a party at the time in Port Jefferson. Damage to other buildings, including the Lowell Brautigan farm, was reported around the small community of Tawara.

Probes Liquor Store

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Possible shortages in the operation of the state liquor store in Sidney are being investigated by the State Department of Liquor Control, Director Donald C. Cook said Monday. Officials would not say if the alleged shortage was in money or liquor.

Killed In Viet Action

Warren emphasized the $132,948 in bonus stamps would not have been available for food for these families without this program.

He said last month showed the second largest participation, with 785 cases (2,427 persons). The households bought $26,949 worth of stamps, and received bonus stamps worth $14,934 for a total of $41,833.

Strong Winds Damage Shelby County Homes

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP) — The roof was ripped off a brick home in Shelby County Monday as strong winds whipped through the county, causing other damage, but no injuries, Sheriff Richard Burns said.

The roof was torn off the home of Tom O'Leary, four miles south of Sidney. O'Leary and his family were at a party at the time in Port Jefferson. Damage to other buildings, including the Lowell Brautigan farm, was reported around the small community of Tawara.

Trial Delayed Until March

The trial of Mrs. Mary Alice Zlatovich of Ohioville, charged with the slaying of her four young children, has been postponed until the March session of Beaver County Court.

The case had been scheduled for a hearing this week, but was continued by Judge Ralph F. Scalera on the petition of both District Atty. Robert J. Masters and Atty. James D. Albaugh, court-appointed counsel for Mrs. Zlatovich.

Albaugh said he has not had time to review the evidence because of five deaths in his family the past year. Masters said three state witnesses, including experts from the State Police Crime Laboratory, could not be present.

Mrs. Zlatovich is charged in connection with the fatal shooting of her four children at home in the spring of 1964.

She was committed to Dixmont State Hospital for treatment for mental illness on the recommendation of a sanity commission in July 1964. Recently, another commission ruled she has recovered sufficiently to be capable of participating in preparation and conduct of her defense.

Quits Cleveland Post

CLEVELAND (AP)— Barton R. Clausen resigned Monday as Cleveland community development director. Clausen, who had been hired in 1966 by former Mayor Ralph S. Locher to head the city's urban renewal program, said he quit when Mayor Carl B. Stokes failed to make any "commitment" on his future in the city administration. Clausen had only praise for Stokes, saying he thinks he "will be a great mayor."

SANTA and the PIGWIDGEN

By Lucrece Beale

Synopsis: On their way to destroy the Pigwidgen, Claus uses the magic arrow to slay a giant. Later Tweedleknees insults a witch who turns him into a donkey.

CHAPTER NINE

"So it's you!" sighed Claus. "You made the witch angry and she has bewitched you. Now what are we to do?" what are we to do"

The donkey brayed piteously.

Claus remembered the magic ring the elves had given him. It could be used once to change a creature's shape. Claus took the ring off his finger and slipped it on the long tail of the donkey. He twisted the ring three times, saying, "Change to your natural shape."

—:—

THE DONKEY vanished. Patrick Tweedleknees stood there rubbing his ears. "Am I glad to get rid of those donkey ears, he cried. "They itched terribly and I had nothing to scratch with."

"Perhaps I should have left you as you were," said Claus. "It would have kept you out of trouble. Now we have used both the ring and the arrow and still have not met the Pigwidgen."

"Never mind," said Tweedleknees airily. "We have other weapons."

"Yes," said Claus. "But you must be careful and control your temper."

Tweedleknees promised to be very, very good and they continued on their way. Now it was truly cold. The snow was many feet deep. As they trudged on their heads bent against the wind they saw a rabbit shivering in a snow drift.

"How cold he looks," murmured Claus.

The snakes approached the terrified elf.

"I will warm him under my coat;" said Tweedleknees. He reached for the little creature. The rabbit took one look at the elf and scurried away.

"What gratitude!" exclaimed the elf.

"Never mind," said Claus. "He doesn't know what's good for him."

"I'll show him" growled Tweedleknees. He ran after the rabbit. The faster he ran the faster the rabbit ran. Claus ran after them both shouting, "Let him go! What does it matter?"

SUDDENLY the earth gave way and Tweedleknees plunged headlong into a deep pit while the rabbit went merrily on his way. Claus crept up and stared over the edge of the pit.

Claus leaned down but he could not reach the elf. He dragged up a fallen log and dropped one end into the pit.

But Tweedleknees screeched, "It's not a trap! It's a snake nest!" Claus peered over the side and saw hundreds of snakes wiggling around the elf.

"Climb the log!" shouted Claus.

But Tweedleknees was too petrified to move. He stood there staring as if hypnotized, too scared even to shake.

The snakes were annoyed at being awakened from their long winter sleep. They twisted and curled into a tight circle around the elf.

Claus pounded on the snakes with the log but they slid out of the way. He shouted and threw rocks into the pit. But the only one hurt was poor Tweedleknees who was too frightened to duck.

The snakes' sleepy eyes glittered. Their pointed tongues darted in and out. It was clear they were getting very, very angry.

Widow Seeks $500,000 In Death Of GI

LISBON — The young widow of a soldier killed Dec. 10, 1966, in a traffic accident in France, has filed a $500,000 wrongful death action in Columbiana County Common Pleas Court.

He and Myrle W. Wagner, the plaintiff's husband, were killed in the crash near Melun Chalons. Both were in the armed forces.

Mrs. Wagner alleges the accident was the result of See's "recklessness, carelessness, negligence or wantonness." Wagner was riding with See.

The plaintiff is a minor. Donald C. Shrawder of Selinsgrove, Pa., filed the action as guardian and as administrator of the estate of her former husband.

150 Join In 'Freedom Rally' Sponsored By Local NAACP

Approximately 150 attended the Freedom Fund rally of the East Liverpool Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Sunday afternoon at the Second Baptist Church.

Highlights and possible causes of riots in Cleveland, Detroit and other areas were reviewed by the speaker, Atty. Earle W. Rowe of Cleveland, whose topic was "The Razor's Edge."

He was introduced by Caesar A. Peters, president of the local chapter.

He discussed the civil rights movement and the political actions which resulted in the election of Carl Stokes as Cleveland's first Negro mayor. He also offered suggestions on how one can be prepared for job opportunities. A question-and-answer period followed.

The Rev. Moses Bishop of the Sheridan AME Church gave the invocation, the Rev. E. H. Harris, host pastor, the benediction and Mrs. Amelia G. Adams the welcome.

The congregation sang, "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," with Mrs. Elizabeth Carter at the piano and Arthur Roberts organist. The Mass Choir of the host church presented two selections.

Mrs. Carter was general chairman of the event and Mrs. Dorothy E. Peters, Mrs. Catherine Williams and Mrs. Rosalie Spencer comprised the social committee. Refreshments were served in the dining room. Mrs. Thomas Mosley and Mrs. Ruby Lacey poured at the buffet table.

2 Bids Rejected On Equipment At City Water Plant

Because both offers exceeded the amount provided by Council, the Board of Public Utilities Monday rejected two bids received on a new activated carbon feeder for use at the water department treatment plant.

Wallace & Tiernan, Inc., of Belleville, N. J., bid $1,484 on the new equipment, adding that the city would be required to pay the freight charges from the plant. The B.I.F. Division of the New York Airbrake Co. at Providence, R. I., bid $1,652 on the basic unit and said it would pay the freight to East Liverpool. In a supplemental offer, it bid $606 and $665, respectively, on two types of an optional dust collector.

Council had appropriated only $1,300 for the purchase, based on the utilities board's estimates, so the board voted to reject both offers and seek new bids.

The board acted after Francis Wise, city chemist, reported that the present carbon feeder can be expected to serve adequately for several months and there is no emergency need for a replacement. W. O. Schneider, chairman, presided. F. J. Cloran and Robert Lewis, the other members of the board, also attended, along with Harold Peterson, departmental superintendent, and Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Please warn mothers that outward appearances mean nothing. Tell them to keep their eyes on their daughters and not to take anything for granted. Just because a girl seems withdrawn doesn't mean she's leading a quiet life.

My friend who has two daughters learned this lesson the hard way. Her 20-year-old Linda was beautiful, well built and she attracted boys like crazy, starting at age 13.

The mother felt the need to keep close tabs on this girl — and she did. They had frequent heart-to-heart talks and the lines of communication were always open. After every date the girl sat on her mother's bed and told her what the evening had been like.

Daughter No. 2 (Marie) was 18 months younger — not at all pretty. She was noticeably overweight and had a bad complexion. This girl spent most of her time in her room with her nose in a book. The mother never concerned herself about Marie's morals because she seldom had a date and expressed very little interest in boys.

In September Linda was married to a fine young law student. She wore a white gown and I'll bet she deserved to. Last week Marie wore a white gown also — but it was a hospital gown. She gave birth to a 9-pound baby boy. (No husband in sight and not a clue as to who the father might be.)

The mother nearly had a nervous breakdown. She repeated over and over, "I never dreamed such a thing would happen to HER — of all people!"

I'm sure you get the message, Ann. Will you please get it across to the mothers? Thank you. — JUST AN OBSERVER.

Dear Just: Your letter got the message across very well. But here's a re-cap.

The not-so-pretty, not-so-popular girl is infinitely more vulnerable than the charmer with good looks and personality. An ugly duckling, in her eagerness to be loved, can be easy prey for the smooth operator who makes her believe that if she gives in he will love her. She also may feel that since she has less to offer she must be excessively generous with her physical favors. Are you tuned in, mothers? I hope so.

Popular Schnook

Dear Ann: My husband is a jerk. All his life he has done people favors.

He repairs their electric appliances, drives them wherever they want to go, lends them money, signs notes at the bank and sits up half the night doing their tax returns. Just name it and my schnook does it.

I've told him for 22 years that he is a fool — that he should charge for his services, that people don't appreciate what they get for nothing. He pays no attention to me whatever.

He thinks you are a very smart woman. Will you please give him some of your common sense, down-to-earth advice? — IGNORED.

Dear Ignored: The advice is for you, Lady. Get off his back. You say he hasn't listened to you in 22 years so why not take the hint?

Patrol Lists Two Crashes

Two city motorists escaped injury in a collision at Calcutta Sunday, but a Lisbon driver was hurt in a mishap near Salem Saturday, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reports.

Cars operated by Harvey L. Wade, 57, of Boring Ln. and Charles R. Brookes, 75, of 1035 St. Clair Ave. were involved in the collision at the intersection of Routes 170 and St. Clair Ave. Ext. Sunday at 1:35 p.m.

Officers said Wade had halted on Route 170 to make a left turn and Brookes, headed west on St. Clair Ext., was making a turn onto Route 170 when his 1962 sedan hit Wade's 1965 coach, causing damage to the left front of both vehicles.

Robert F. Taylor, 29, of 276 E. Pine St., Lisbon, was bruised and shaken when his car rammed the rear of another on Route 45 about a mile south of Salem Saturday night.

Officers said his 1957 sedan hit the rear of a 1968 coach operated by Donald F. Cole, 27, of Darlington RD 1, Pa., who had halted to make a left turn into a private drive.

6 Suffer Injury As Plane Skids From Runway

Mrs. Gertrude Clarisey, 61, of lowing treatment at hospitals Grand Rapids, Mich., was reported in guarded condition at Timken Mercy Hospital here. The others were releasd folhere and in Akron.

The four-engine Viscount was inbound from Detroit with 15 passengers and a crew of three. It was bound for Washington, D. C., with other stops scheduled at Youngstown and Pittsburgh.

The plane skidded off the runway and over a 20-foot embankment, coming to a rest in mud about 120 yards from the end of the runway. The landing gear was ripped off and one wing was damaged extensively.

Treated were Janet Jones, 20, Lodi, Calif., a stewardess on the plane; William McLaughlin, 49, Valley City, N.Y., Corriene Lowery, 21, Canton; George Avgeropoulos, 33, Detroit; Mrs. Mary Ellen Douglas, 30, Munroe Falls.

Federal officials and local authorities are investigating the accident.

Holy Name Unit Holds Breakfast

Thirty - five attended the annual Communion breakfast Sunday morning of the Holy Name Society at St. Aloysius's Church.

Clint McConnell, basketball coach at East Liverpool High School, was guest speaker. James McGowan, master of ceremonies, presented a jewel to Louis Skvarka, past president. He also introduced the officers for 1968 as Joseph O'Hanlon, president; Albert Hissom, vice president; Leo Payne, secretary, and Mathew Pepe, treasurer.

Rev. D. Ross Salisbury, pastor of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, gave the invocation. He also thanked the society for participating in the "Cross of Nails" parade Thursday.

Fr. Donald DeCarlo, pastor at St. Aloysius, gave the benediction.

Gifts Distributed At Party Of CP

The program featured the singing of carols, with Robert Lorah accompanist. Refreshments were served by Mrs. John McDonald, Mrs. Robert Wagner, Mrs. Richard Brian and Mrs. William White.

Attempt At Safe Entry Termed 'Amateurish'

Intruders entered the loan company's office through a rear door and then attempted to force their way into a small safe by "peeling" away the metal covering and battering through the walls, officers said. A 6-inch metal panel was broken out of the door.

W. Va. Police Arrest 15 In Gambling Raids

West Virginia State Police raided nightclubs and alleged gambling casinos in Marshall and Harrison Counties Monday night and arrested 15 persons on a variety of charges.

Nine persons were arrested in Harrison County and six were booked in Marshall County. The charges include liquor law violations and possessing and displaying gambling devices.

An undetermined amount of gambling equipment was seized in Harrison County and 12 slot machines were seized in Marshall County.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Please warn mothers that outward appearances mean nothing. Tell them to keep their eyes on their daughters and not to take anything for granted. Just because a girl seems withdrawn doesn't mean she's leading a quiet life.

My friend who has two daughters learned this lesson the hard way. Her 20-year-old Linda was beautiful, well built and she attracted boys like crazy, starting at age 13.

The mother felt the need to keep close tabs on this girl — and she did. They had frequent heart-to-heart talks and the lines of communication were always open. After every date the girl sat on her mother's bed and told her what the evening had been like.

Daughter No. 2 (Marie) was 18 months younger — not at all pretty. She was noticeably overweight and had a bad complexion. This girl spent most of her time in her room with her nose in a book. The mother never concerned herself about Marie's morals because she seldom had a date and expressed very little interest in boys.

In September Linda was married to a fine young law student. She wore a white gown and I'll bet she deserved to. Last week Marie wore a white gown also — but it was a hospital gown. She gave birth to a 9-pound baby boy. (No husband in sight and not a clue as to who the father might be.)

The mother nearly had a nervous breakdown. She repeated over and over, "I never dreamed such a thing would happen to HER — of all people!"

Dear Just: Your letter got the message across very well. But here's a re-cap.

The not-so-pretty, not-so-popular girl is infinitely more vulnerable than the charmer with good looks and personality. An ugly duckling, in her eagerness to be loved, can be easy prey for the smooth operator who makes her believe that if she gives in he will love her. She also may feel that since she has less to offer she must be excessively generous with her physical favors. Are you tuned in, mothers? I hope so.

Popular Schnook

Dear Ann: My husband is a jerk. All his life he has done people favors.

He repairs their electric appliances, drives them wherever they want to go, lends them money, signs notes at the bank and sits up half the night doing their tax returns. Just name it and my schnook does it.

I've told him for 22 years that he is a fool — that he should charge for his services, that people don't appreciate what they get for nothing. He pays no attention to me whatever.

He thinks you are a very smart woman. Will you please give him some of your common sense, down-to-earth advice? — IGNORED.

Dear Ignored: The advice is for you, Lady. Get off his back. You say he hasn't listened to you in 22 years so why not take the hint?

If your husband charged for his favors he'd lose the pleasure of giving — and this, my friend, can be a lot more rewarding than a buck here and a buck there.

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Basketball season is well under way, and there have been some exciting games, but one thing is missing — the dunk shot.

The dunk is the most exciting play in basketball, and we feel that a great mistake was made when it was outlawed in college and high school play this year.

Lew Alcindor, in an article in Sport magazine, calls the anti-dunk rule discriminatory against Negroes. Though it is possible that a higher percentage of Negroes may be able to dunk the ball, the people who changed the rules were trying to discriminate against the big men of the game, regardless of their skin color.

TRYING TO discriminate against the tall man in basketball is like telling any football player who weighs over 250 that he must wear weights in his shoes, because he has an unfair advantage because of his size. Rules to hamper a seven-footer are somewhat comparable to King Canute's telling the tide to stop — they're trying to legislate Nature.

The unfortunate thing about the anti-dunk rule is that the big men are not getting hurt as much as the little men. It's not so much of a thrill to see a seven-footer dunk the ball. That's expected. But to see 5-6 Willie Worsley of Texas Western dunk it (he did, on TV, in warm-ups prior to the 1966 national championship game) is an incredible sight and a great crowd-pleaser. In the same category is 5-10 dunker Calvin Murphy of Niagara and even more so 6-0 Gregg Morris of Cornell, who can dunk up to the elbow.

Al McGuire, coach at Marquette, echoed this, when he noted that the 6-3 and 6-4 players who used to dunk are now having their shots blocked, but the seven-footers can still get high enough to shoot down at the basket without acually dunking it. Wisconsin's John Erickson said that the outlawing of the dunk will cut down on jumping ability, as many players practiced jumping just to be able to dunk the ball, and now that incentive is gone.

HENRY RAYMONDS, assistant to McGuire, found favor with the new rule because in his opinion it will teach players to take better lay-up shots instead of relying on the dunk.

The absence of the dunk takes something away from the game, however. There is no longer the incentive for the crowd to arrive at warm-ups and oh and ah as the leapers stuff the ball through the hoop in a variety of positions. There is no longer the opportunity for a coach to "psych" the opponents by having seven players who can dunk the ball, even if most of them are too clumsy to start.

In other words, basketball is back — but it just isn't the same.

McVay Makes Mention List

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Quarterback Lou Angelo of Youngstown Chaney heads up a swift, power-packed backfield named to The Associated Press Class AA All-Ohio football team.

There was such an abundance of outstanding runners that The AP dream team has four running backs.

District boards, made up of sports writers and broadcasters from around the state, helped in choosing the scholastic gridders for statewide honors.

Angelo, a 6-foot senior, completed 105 of 210 passes for 1,785 yards and 19 touchdowns. He also ran for seven TDs and piled up 275 yards rushing for a total offense of 2,060.

Williams romped for 1,684 yards and 22 touchdowns leading Sandusky to a 9-1 record while Young gained 1,633 and piled up 148 points sparking Wintersville to an unbeaten 10-0 campaign.

Decker ripped opposing lines for 1,964 yards averaging almost seven yards a crack while scoring 21 touchdowns. Campana, who missed one full game and played only part of another because of an injury, racked up 1,134 yards and 18 touchdowns. He rambled at a nine-yards-per-carry clip.

Out standing linemen dominated both the defensive and offensive units. Tackle Steve Sikora, one of the big men in Upper Arlington's successful climb to the top-ranked position, anchors a strong offensive line.

Don Rogers, Lima Senior's stellar 262-pound tackle, made it on defense and Don Lamka, Cleveland South's nifty quarterback, was selected as a defensive back.

Kent Roosevelt was the only school to land two players on the first units as Stan White was named to a defensive end spot.

There was such stiff competition at the linebacker position that four players were picked for the spot. They are Tom Schlageter of Toledo St. Francis Mike Derifield of Ironton; Ron Ertle of Massillon and Keith Best of Canton Lincoln.

Mountaineers Lose At Detroit 86-81

Princeton Tops Rutgers

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bill van Breda Kolff no longer coaches basketball at Princeton but he didn't leave the Tigers defenseless.

"It was our second best defensive game of the season," Coach Pete Carril said Monday night after the 10th-ranked Tigers ran their record to 4-0 by thrashing Rutgers 83-54.

You might have difficulty convincing Rutgers it was only Princeton's second-best defensive effort.

Trailing 40-29 at halftime, the Scarlet was held to one point in the first 7½ minutes of the second half by Princeton's swarming man-to-man defense, taught by Van Breda Kolff, while Tiger shooters poured in 18 for insurmountable 58-30 lead.

Carril, who took over the Princeton helm after Van Breda Kolff resigned to coach the professional Los Angeles Lakers, had no trouble following Van Breda Kolff's defensive philosphy. He was captain of the first college team coached by Van Breda Kolff, at Lafayette in the early 1950s.

Christ Thomforde led the balanced Princeton attack against Rutgers at Princeton, N.J., with 15 points, including 13 of 14 from the foul line.

The only other member of the Top Ten to see action Monday, No. 9 Indiana, also won.

The Hoosiers, trailing 42-41 at halftime, came on in the final 14 minutes and edged Kansas State 88-93 at Bloomington, Ind., boosting their record to 4-9. Earl Schneider scored 26 points for Indiana.

Unbeaten Marquette, with George Thompson scoring 22 points and Brad Luchini 16, ran up a nine-point lead in the first three minutes and coasted to its third victory, 87-61 over Air Force at Milwaukee, Wis.

St. Bonaventure, 4-0, routed Xavier of Ohio 93-69 at Olean, N.Y., as Bill Butler scored 33 points and 6-foot-11 sophomore Bob Lanier added 30.

All five starters hit for double figures for Detroit in a 86-81 victory over West Virginia at Detroit. Bruce Dowdan led the Titans with 20 points, and Dave Reaser got 29 for West Virginia.

Notre Dame won its fourth game in as many starts, 79-59 over winless Southern Methodist, 0-5, at South Bend, Ind. Bob Arnzen netted 20 points and Bob Whitmore got 19 points and grabbed 20 rebounds for the Fighting Irish.

And Queens College beat City College of New York 82-75 for its first victory over the Beavers in 30 years. Les Brody of Queens, who finished with 19 points, hit on all seven of his shots from the floor in the second half to spark the victory.

In other big games, Wichita State outlasted Arizona State 122-105, Cincinnati drubbed South Dakota 89-65, Purdue topped Ohio University 78-66 and Chicago Loyola trounced St. John's Minn., 119-85. All were home-court victories.

Beaver Local Top Scoring Cage Team

Beaver Local, already leading area teams in scoring, upped its average 11 points a game last week to 79.5 points a game and now leads East Palestine by a wide margin.

The Bulldogs are scoring 66.7 points a game. East Liverpool has the lead in defense with 46.5 points a game given up. Leetonia is next with 49.7 and then come South Side Beaver at 50.8, and Wellsville at 54.3. Other leaders in offense are Leetonia at 61.7, East Liverpool at 61.5, Columbiana at 61.0, Wellsville at 60.8, Stanton Local at 60.3 and United at 60.0.

Individually Dan McKinstry of East Palestine is still the leading scorer with a 24.0 average after three games. Ron Peden of South Side is the only other player over 20, hitting 21 ppg over four games. Dave Vanlier of Midland has jumped from seventh to third.

Three Area Teams Play Away Tonight

Basketball action is light in the area tonight, indeed, fans of the three area teams in action, Oak Glen, South Side and Western Beaver, will have to travel some distance to see their favorites play.

Oak Glen, 1-2, is at Weirton. The Red Riders opened their season Friday night at Steubenville and trailed 46-23 with 1:38 to go in the third quarter. Weirton put on a fantastic rally that tied the game at 56 all with 1:02 left, but a foul shot by Don Osby gave Big Red the win, 57-56. Rich Strong and Ron Smith posted 11 points each and Tom Clark had 10 to lead Jim Carey's club. Strong is 6-1, Clark 5-11 and Smith 5-8. Rich Carey, 6-4, and Tom Rowe, 5-10, round out the starting five. All except Smith are lettermen. The Red Riders suffered a bad blow when Leon Jenkins, another letterman, suffered a separated elbow playing football and is out indefinitely.

South Side, surprised at South Fayette Friday after three wins, travels to Avella, another Section 11 team. Avella won its first Friday, 80-73 over South Park, after losing to Washington Immaculate Conception 60-38, Coraopolis 110-72 and Bethany, W. Va. 79-52. Ron Peden, despite an off night against South Fayette, still leads John Nace's team with a 21 ppg average. Dan Hartzell is next with 11 points a game and Francis Nash is at 10.8. Peden is also the top rebounder on the team.

Western Beaver, 0-5 under new coach John Dudo, travels to Laurel, in Lawrence County. The Spartans have lost to West Middlesex 74-57. Darryl Dye, leads Western with 68 points.

Shoot Will Be Held By Club Next Sunday

The Columbiana County Fish and Game Association will hold a public turkey and ham shoot at the clubhouse on the Elkton Rd. next Sunday afternoon at 1.

The club will hold its regular shoot Wednesday night at 7:30.

Winners in the 16-yard trapshoot last Sunday were Terry Zaplata and Norman Ramb, who each broke 24 of 25 targets, and John Wilson and Bob Schultz, with 23 each.

Protector shoots were won by Zaplata and Rambo and Herman Raber and Dave Parr. The Red bird winners were Rambo, with four, and Ray Goodman and James Lawton, one each. Rambo also won the parking lot shoot.

Beaver Local Wins Ninth Grade Game

Beaver Local won its third straight ninth grade basketball game yesterday, handing Southern Local its first loss in three outings on the losers' court by a 45-35 score.

Phil Linger had 15 to pace the winners and Bobby Diehl 12 for the losers. Southern is at Wellsville Thursday.

Vanderbilt, Kentucky Face Ranked Foes

By BEN OLAN

Vanderbilt and Kentucky won't have to wait long before putting on the line their new, high-ranking positions in The Associated Press' major-college basketball poll.

In fact, both the Commodores and the Wildcats face other rated opponents tonight. Vandy, No. 3, goes against Davidson, No. 8, while Kentucky, No. 4, plays North Carolina, No. 7.

UCLA, once again with a solid lead in the weekly balloting, is idle this week Houston, the runner-up participates in the Bluebonnet Classic Wednesday and Thursday nights against George Washington, Mississippi State and Montana State.

The Bruins, 3-0 including victories over Wichita State and Iowa State last week, drew 34 first-place votes in the latest balloting by a national panel of 35 sports writers and broadcasters.

UCLA accumulated 349 points on the basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third etc. Houston, which picked up the other vote for the top position, had 313 points.

Vanderbilt advanced from eighth place and Kentucky from the No. 9 spot. Louisville slipped two notches to fifth after losing to Northwestern, 88-83. The voting was based on games through last Saturday.

Boston College is sixth, a climb of four places, followed by North Carolina, Davidson, Indiana and Princeton.

Davidson, Indiana and Princeton are the new teams in the Top Ten. They replaced Kansas, Dayton and Purdue, fourth, sixth and seventh, respectively, a week ago.

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Basketball season is well under way, and there have been some exciting games, but one thing is missing — the dunk shot.

The dunk is the most exciting play in basketball, and we feel that a great mistake was made when it was outlawed in college and high school play this year.

Lew Alcindor, in an article in Sport magazine, calls the anti-dunk rule discriminatory against Negroes. Though it is possible that a higher percentage of Negroes may be able to dunk the ball, the people who changed the rules were trying to discriminate against the big men of the game, regardless of their skin color.

TRYING TO discriminate against the tall man in basketball is like telling any football player who weighs over 250 that he must wear weights in his shoes, because he has an unfair advantage because of his size. Rules to hamper a seven-footer are somewhat comparable to King Canute's telling the tide to stop — they're trying to legislate Nature.

The unfortunate thing about the anti-dunk rule is that the big men are not getting hurt as much as the little men. It's not so much of a thrill to see a seven-footer dunk the ball. That's expected. But to see 5-6 Willie Worsley of Texas Western dunk it (he did, on TV, in warm-ups prior to the 1966 national championship game) is an incredible sight and a great crowd-pleaser. In the same category is 5-10 dunker Calvin Murphy of Niagara and even more so 6-0 Gregg Morris of Cornell, who can dunk up to the elbow.

Al McGuire, coach at Marquette, echoed this, when he noted that the 6-3 and 6-4 players who used to dunk are now having their shots blocked, but the seven-footers can still get high enough to shoot down at the basket without acually dunking it. Wisconsin's John Erickson said that the outlawing of the dunk will cut down on jumping ability, as many players practiced jumping just to be able to dunk the ball, and now that incentive is gone.

HENRY RAYMONDS, assistant to McGuire, found favor with the new rule because in his opinion it will teach players to take better lay-up shots instead of relying on the dunk.

The absence of the dunk takes something away from the game, however. There is no longer the incentive for the crowd to arrive at warm-ups and oh and ah as the leapers stuff the ball through the hoop in a variety of positions. There is no longer the opportunity for a coach to "psych" the opponents by having seven players who can dunk the ball, even if most of them are too clumsy to start.

In other words, basketball is back — but it just isn't the same.

McVay Makes Mention List

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Quarterback Lou Angelo of Youngstown Chaney heads up a swift, power-packed backfield named to The Associated Press Class AA All-Ohio football team.

There was such an abundance of outstanding runners that The AP dream team has four running backs.

District boards, made up of sports writers and broadcasters from around the state, helped in choosing the scholastic gridders for statewide honors.

Angelo, a 6-foot senior, completed 105 of 210 passes for 1,785 yards and 19 touchdowns. He also ran for seven TDs and piled up 275 yards rushing for a total offense of 2,060.

Williams romped for 1,684 yards and 22 touchdowns leading Sandusky to a 9-1 record while Young gained 1,633 and piled up 148 points sparking Wintersville to an unbeaten 10-0 campaign.

Decker ripped opposing lines for 1,964 yards averaging almost seven yards a crack while scoring 21 touchdowns. Campana, who missed one full game and played only part of another because of an injury, racked up 1,134 yards and 18 touchdowns. He rambled at a nine-yards-per-carry clip.

Out standing linemen dominated both the defensive and offensive units. Tackle Steve Sikora, one of the big men in Upper Arlington's successful climb to the top-ranked position, anchors a strong offensive line.

Don Rogers, Lima Senior's stellar 262-pound tackle, made it on defense and Don Lamka, Cleveland South's nifty quarterback, was selected as a defensive back.

Kent Roosevelt was the only school to land two players on the first units as Stan White was named to a defensive end spot.

There was such stiff competition at the linebacker position that four players were picked for the spot. They are Tom Schlageter of Toledo St. Francis Mike Derifield of Ironton; Ron Ertle of Massillon and Keith Best of Canton Lincoln.

Mountaineers Lose At Detroit 86-81

Princeton Tops Rutgers

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bill van Breda Kolff no longer coaches basketball at Princeton but he didn't leave the Tigers defenseless.

"It was our second best defensive game of the season," Coach Pete Carril said Monday night after the 10th-ranked Tigers ran their record to 4-0 by thrashing Rutgers 83-54.

You might have difficulty convincing Rutgers it was only Princeton's second-best defensive effort.

Trailing 40-29 at halftime, the Scarlet was held to one point in the first 7½ minutes of the second half by Princeton's swarming man-to-man defense, taught by Van Breda Kolff, while Tiger shooters poured in 18 for insurmountable 58-30 lead.

Carril, who took over the Princeton helm after Van Breda Kolff resigned to coach the professional Los Angeles Lakers, had no trouble following Van Breda Kolff's defensive philosphy. He was captain of the first college team coached by Van Breda Kolff, at Lafayette in the early 1950s.

Christ Thomforde led the balanced Princeton attack against Rutgers at Princeton, N.J., with 15 points, including 13 of 14 from the foul line.

The only other member of the Top Ten to see action Monday, No. 9 Indiana, also won.

The Hoosiers, trailing 42-41 at halftime, came on in the final 14 minutes and edged Kansas State 88-93 at Bloomington, Ind., boosting their record to 4-9. Earl Schneider scored 26 points for Indiana.

Unbeaten Marquette, with George Thompson scoring 22 points and Brad Luchini 16, ran up a nine-point lead in the first three minutes and coasted to its third victory, 87-61 over Air Force at Milwaukee, Wis.

St. Bonaventure, 4-0, routed Xavier of Ohio 93-69 at Olean, N.Y., as Bill Butler scored 33 points and 6-foot-11 sophomore Bob Lanier added 30.

All five starters hit for double figures for Detroit in a 86-81 victory over West Virginia at Detroit. Bruce Dowdan led the Titans with 20 points, and Dave Reaser got 29 for West Virginia.

Notre Dame won its fourth game in as many starts, 79-59 over winless Southern Methodist, 0-5, at South Bend, Ind. Bob Arnzen netted 20 points and Bob Whitmore got 19 points and grabbed 20 rebounds for the Fighting Irish.

And Queens College beat City College of New York 82-75 for its first victory over the Beavers in 30 years. Les Brody of Queens, who finished with 19 points, hit on all seven of his shots from the floor in the second half to spark the victory.

In other big games, Wichita State outlasted Arizona State 122-105, Cincinnati drubbed South Dakota 89-65, Purdue topped Ohio University 78-66 and Chicago Loyola trounced St. John's Minn., 119-85. All were home-court victories.

Shoot Will Be Held By Club Next Sunday

The Columbiana County Fish and Game Association will hold a public turkey and ham shoot at the clubhouse on the Elkton Rd. next Sunday afternoon at 1.

The club will hold its regular shoot Wednesday night at 7:30.

Beaver Local Top Scoring Cage Team

Beaver Local, already leading area teams in scoring, upped its average 11 points a game last week to 79.5 points a game and now leads East Palestine by a wide margin.

The Bulldogs are scoring 66.7 points a game. East Liverpool has the lead in defense with 46.5 points a game given up. Leetonia is next with 49.7 and then come South Side Beaver at 50.8, and Wellsville at 54.3. Other leaders in offense are Leetonia at 61.7, East Liverpool at 61.5, Columbiana at 61.0, Wellsville at 60.8, Stanton Local at 60.3 and United at 60.0.

Individually Dan McKinstry of East Palestine is still the leading scorer with a 24.0 average after three games. Ron Peden of South Side is the only other player over 20, hitting 21 ppg over four games. Dave Vanlier of Midland has jumped from seventh to third.

Pennsylvania Approves Flat Races

By JOHN L. TAYLOR

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania has become the 28th state to legalize pari-mutuel betting on thoroughbred horse racing, despite Gov. Shafer's personal distaste of gambling.

Instead, the governor issued this brief statement:

"Today I have signed into law Senate Bill 829 as I said I would if the bill reached me in proper form from the General Assembly.

"I did not advocate, sponsor or support this legislation, but I believe it is impossible philosophically, morally or practically to distinguish between parimutuel betting on a horse racing with a harness and a horse racing under a rider."

Harness racing was legalized here in 1959, and since then Pennsylvania has been the only one of 16 harness states that prohibit thoroughbred racing. Eleven states have legalized thoroughbred racing, but no harness racing.

Pennsylvania's new thoroughbred law authorizes Shafer to appoint a three-member nonsalaried State Horse Racing Commission to license no more than four corporations, each of which could hold a maximum of 100 days of racing annually.

None of the current harness track corporations could be licensed to conduct thoroughbred racing, but nothing would stop a thoroughbred corporation from leasing a harness track.

The three existing harness tracks are: Liberty Bell in Philadelphia, where two corporations conduct racing; Pocono Downs, near Wilkes-Barre; and the Meadows, near Washington.

A fifth harness license would be authorized under another bill, passed by the Senate and sent to the governor. The measure was sponsored by a group of legislators from Erie County, which has approved harness racing by referendum.

In the Pittsburgh area, which undoubtedly would get one of the flat-racing tracks, four syndicates already have formed in hope of obtaining a license.

One is headed by Art Rooney, head of the Pittsburgh Steelers, another by Pirates vice-president Tom Johnson. The other two groups reportedly are headed by automobile dealer Kenny Ross and attorney James Montgomery.

The thoroughbred bill does not require voter approval for racing to be conducted in any particular county.

Pennsylvania would earn revenue from thoroughbred racing by taking 5 per cent of the betting pool, or handle, 50 per cent of the breakage, or odd cents wagered, and 15 per cent of admission fees. The tracks would take 10 per cent of the handle, plus the remainder of the breakage and admission fees.

Any track licensed in Philadelphia would be required to take another 2 per cent out of the handle for the city's school system.

Michaels Shakes Slump In Field Goal Kicking

BALTIMORE (AP) — The return of Lou Michaels' field goal kicking touch for the Baltimore Colts in time for Sunday's game at Los Angeles is akin to Ted Williams coming out of a batting slump on the eve of the World Series.

The comparison comes from Michaels.

He had suffered—and so had Colt fans—during a spell when he made only nine of 25 field goal attempts. And, of all things, he missed two extra points.

Last Sunday Michaels had a perfect day, three for three. It was his third straight Sunday without a miss and the 10 field goals in a row are a record by a Colt.

"Although I don't want to compare myself with these athletes," Michaels said, "I felt it wasn't any different than Stan Musial, Ted Williams or a great hitter going a couple of games without a hit.

"Sooner or later they would nail one and it'd be all over. I think that's how it was with me, and when I started hitting the ball good again a few weeks ago I knew I was all right."

The worst period was against Green Bay. Michaels missed one field goal, another didn't clear the line of scrimmage and on top of it all he missed an extra point, leaving the score 10-6 in favor of Green Bay with two minutes to play.

One of three he kicked the next week against Dallas traveled on a line 53 yards, only three less than the National Football League record set by Bert Reichichar when he was a Colt.

"All I hope now is that I'm just as big a week from today as I am now," said the 10-year veteran. "The game we've got coming up against the Rams will be the biggest one I've ever partcipated in, believe me."

Fired Coach Named To Post On Faculty

Marshall President Stewart H. Smith announced the appointment Friday.

Wolman Struggles For Eagles

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Will the real owner of the Philadelphia Eagles' football team please stand up

For the next day or so at least, financially-troubled builder-sportsman Jerry Wolman is the owner of the National Football League franchise — on paper and in practice.

But when the 40-year-old Wolman signs a $14.5 million deal probably Wednesday — with a group headed by Norman S. Raab, a clothing manufacturer, he is expected to become a mere figurehead.

Technically, he won't be selling the Eagles. He'll be attempting to borrow his way out of a financial crisis in other business interests brought on by "a tight money market," according to Wolman.

Of the $14.5 million, $2.5 million will be the actual sale of some 30 per cent of club stock. The rest will be as a three-year loan secured by the balance of the Eagles' stock.

Wolman remains listed as club president and majority stockholder in NFL records in New York, but until the loan is repaid, effective control will pass to the Raab interests.

This, said one close to Wolman, is what made the deal attractive to the Raab group. Raab and his brother, Max — who tried to buy an American Football League franchise for Philadelphia several years ago —figure they have nothing to lose.

They want a team and the worse that could happen to them is to wind up with 30 per cent of the Eagles and a financially-healthy majority stockholder in Wolman. If Wolman fails, they would get the whole ball of wax.

Southern Tops United In 8th Grade Contest

All-American Homan, Byrd, Pipes In Senior

Alabama end Dennis Homan, the crack pass catcher, and rugged Tennessee center Bob Johnson are from the All-America first team on offense; linemen Dennis Byrd of North Caroline State and Greg Pipes of Baylor are from the first team defensive array.

Thy are Florida State's quarterback Kim Hammand, who ranked second in the nation in total offense; Clemson lineman Harry Olszewski; Tennessee lineman John Boynton; and linebackers Fred Carr of Texas-El Paso and D. D. Lewis of Mississippi State.

Carr, at 6-5 and 232 pounds, will be the biggest linebacker ever to play in the Senior Bowl.

Dividing the signal calling duties with Hammond will be Dewey Warren, who guided Tennessee to the Southeastern Conference championship. The two passed for a total of more than 3,000 yards this season.

Homan, Auburn's Freddie Hyatt, Vanderbilt's Bob Goodridge and Virginia Tech's Ken Barefoot will be the chief targets for Hammond and Warren. The four totaled 193 pass receptions in 1967.

Offensive linemen who will work with the 223-pound Boynton and 240-pound Olszewski are Maurice Moorman of Texas A&M, 241 pounds, and Ernie Ruple of Arkansas, 250 pounds. Auburn center Forrest Blue will share duties with Johnson.

Defensive linemen include Dan Sartin of Mississippi and Marvin Upshaw of Trinity University. Jimmy Keyes of Mississippi and Tommy Roussel of Southern Mississippi will help man the linebacking posts.

Hank Stram of Kansas City's Chiefs will coach the South squad and Mike Holovak of the Boston Patriots will direct the North. The North squad will be announced later this week.

The players turn professional in the game. Each member of the winning squad is paid $1,000 and losers receive $750 each. The South leads in the series 11-6-1.

Gibson, Lahar Latest Coaches To Step Down

By The Associated Press

The latest to leave are Hal Lahar of Colgate and Bowling Green's Bob Gibson, who resigned with the most original reason within memory.

"My reason for resigning is unbelievably simple," he said. "I no longer want the job."

Gibson made it a pretty good job in his three years at the helm of the Falcons. He had a 19-9 record after being an assistant for nine years.

Gibson, 49, who plans to remain as an assistant professor of health and physical education, is the third Mid-American Conference coach to leave in the last two months.

Charlie Snyder of Marshall was fired near the end of the season and Leo Strang of Kent State resigned.

Lahar had a 53-40-8 record in his tenure since 1953, not including a brief stay at Houston. His team nosedived to 2-8 this season after an 8-1-1 mark in 1966.

Wheelwright came to Colgate in 1962 from Hofstra, where he was an assistant.

Westgate Wallops Chester

Randy McVay led Don Rogers' team with 16 points and Joe March added 14. It was discovered that March, who scored 32 points last week, broke Bill Montgomery's school record of 26 with that effort. Ricky Aaron led Chester with nine.

In the eighth grade game Westgate won 32-10 as John Connell scored 10. Westgate is at Steubenville on Thursday.

10 Players Added For Blue-Gray

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Ten more players have been added to the North and South squads for the annual Blue-Gray football game, including three Carolina State and two from from Missouri, three from North Carolina State and two from Michigan State.

Also represented in Monday's choices for the Dec. 30 tilt in Montgomery were Virginia Tech and Southern Mississippi.

The Michigan State players added for the North were offensive linemen Joe Przybcki and Mitchell Pruiett. Przybcki, at 245 pounds, was an honorable mention All-America.

Clemente Officially Bat Champ

CINCINNATI (AP) — You've still got to hit singles—and a lot of them—if you want to win the National League's batting championships.

The league's official 1967 batting records bear this out. Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates won the crown for the fourth time with a .357 batting average. His "singles average" was a lot higher than that—.713.

Clemente went to bat 585 times to accumulate the best hitting average of his 13-year major league career. He collected a total of 209 hits and drove in 110 runs—second only to Orlando Cepeda's 111 Clemente's hits included 150 singles, 26 doubles, 10 triples and 23 home runs.

In fact, only one of the top six batters came up with a "singles average" of less than .700, and home run king Henry Aaron of the Atlanta Braves, who hit 39 homers and 105 singles, wound up in a seventh-place tie with Richie Allen of Philadelphia. Both batted .307 for the season.

Roberto Clemente, Pittsburgh, .357 (.713); Tony Gonzalez, Philadelphia, .339 (.744); Matty Alou, Pittsburgh, .338 (.839); Curt Flood, St. Louis, .335 (.825); Rusty Staub, .333 (.709) and Orlando Cepeda, St. Louis, .325 (.661).

Aaron, with his 39 home runs, still accumulated a "singles average" of .570 and drove in 109 runs for third place in that department. It was his fourth home run crown.

The Atlanta outfielder also tied Lou Brock of St. Louis for the most runs scored with 113. None came near Brock's total of 52 stolen bases—or the 18 times he was caught stealing.

Maury Wills of the Pirates hit more singles than anybody else —162—and tied the league record by leading in that category four times. His final batting average of .302 put him in a tie for ninth place and his "singles average" was .871.

Lauterbur Top Coach

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Toledo's Frank X. Lauterbur was an overwhelming choice as Ohio College Football Coach of the Year for 1967. He guided the Rockets to their best season ever in 50 years of football at the school.

Toledo lost its opening game to Ohio University, 20-14, but then clicked off nine straight victories for a 9-1-0 mark. Toledo and Ohio U. wound up as cochampions of the Mid-American Conference.

"I am extremely humble and grateful to my fellow coaches who voted me this honor," said the 41-year-old Lauterbur, who also is athletic director at Toledo.

Results of the 16th annual poll conducted by the Columbus Dispatch were announced Sunday. Lauterbur received 23 first place votes from the 34 coaches who voted in the poll.

Voting was on a 3-2-1 basis, and Lauterbur piled up 79 points to 47 for runner-up Jack Fouts of Ohio Wesleyan and 35 for Fred Martinelli of Ashland College. Wesleyan and Ashland both finished with 8-0-1 records and were the only unbeaten clubs in Ohio.

A native of Cincinnati, Lauterbur joined the Toledo staff in 1963 and a few months later was appointed athletic director. He has degrees from Mount Union and Kent State.

Dave Davis Top Bowler

NEW YORK (AP)—Dave Davis of Phoenix Ariz. literally wrapped up "Bowler of the Year" honors Saturday by winning the Professional Bowlers Association $70,000 national championship at Madison Square Garden.

The 6-2, 145-pounder defeated Pete Tountas of Tucson, Ariz., 216-191, in the championship match which climaxed 162 games in the week-long grind that closed the PBA's 1967 tour.

Mike Limongello of N. Babylon, N. Y. was third and Bud Horn of Los Angeles finished fourth.

The $10,000 first place check which Davis won raised his earnings for the year to $54,115, which was $605 short of the record $54,720 set last year by Wayne Zahn of Atlanta.

But Davis did set two new records. This was his sixth tournament victory this year, which broke Dick Weber's mark of five set in 1961. And it was the first time in the history of the PBA that one man has won the national championship twice. The 25-year-older won his first national in 1965.

Pennsylvania Approves Flat Races

By JOHN L. TAYLOR

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania has become the 28th state to legalize pari-mutuel betting on thoroughbred horse racing, despite Gov. Shafer's personal distaste of gambling.

Instead, the governor issued this brief statement:

"Today I have signed into law Senate Bill 829 as I said I would if the bill reached me in proper form from the General Assembly.

"I did not advocate, sponsor or support this legislation, but I believe it is impossible philosophically, morally or practically to distinguish between parimutuel betting on a horse racing with a harness and a horse racing under a rider."

Harness racing was legalized here in 1959, and since then Pennsylvania has been the only one of 16 harness states that prohibit thoroughbred racing. Eleven states have legalized thoroughbred racing, but no harness racing.

Pennsylvania's new thoroughbred law authorizes Shafer to appoint a three-member nonsalaried State Horse Racing Commission to license no more than four corporations, each of which could hold a maximum of 100 days of racing annually.

None of the current harness track corporations could be licensed to conduct thoroughbred racing, but nothing would stop a thoroughbred corporation from leasing a harness track.

The three existing harness tracks are: Liberty Bell in Philadelphia, where two corporations conduct racing; Pocono Downs, near Wilkes-Barre; and the Meadows, near Washington.

A fifth harness license would be authorized under another bill, passed by the Senate and sent to the governor. The measure was sponsored by a group of legislators from Erie County, which has approved harness racing by referendum.

In the Pittsburgh area, which undoubtedly would get one of the flat-racing tracks, four syndicates already have formed in hope of obtaining a license.

One is headed by Art Rooney, head of the Pittsburgh Steelers, another by Pirates vice-president Tom Johnson. The other two groups reportedly are headed by automobile dealer Kenny Ross and attorney James Montgomery.

The thoroughbred bill does not require voter approval for racing to be conducted in any particular county.

Pennsylvania would earn revenue from thoroughbred racing by taking 5 per cent of the betting pool, or handle, 50 per cent of the breakage, or odd cents wagered, and 15 per cent of admission fees. The tracks would take 10 per cent of the handle, plus the remainder of the breakage and admission fees.

Any track licensed in Philadelphia would be required to take another 2 per cent out of the handle for the city's school system.

Michaels Shakes Slump In Field Goal Kicking

BALTIMORE (AP) — The return of Lou Michaels' field goal kicking touch for the Baltimore Colts in time for Sunday's game at Los Angeles is akin to Ted Williams coming out of a batting slump on the eve of the World Series.

The comparison comes from Michaels.

He had suffered—and so had Colt fans—during a spell when he made only nine of 25 field goal attempts. And, of all things, he missed two extra points.

Last Sunday Michaels had a perfect day, three for three. It was his third straight Sunday without a miss and the 10 field goals in a row are a record by a Colt.

"Although I don't want to compare myself with these athletes," Michaels said, "I felt it wasn't any different than Stan Musial, Ted Williams or a great hitter going a couple of games without a hit.

"Sooner or later they would nail one and it'd be all over. I think that's how it was with me, and when I started hitting the ball good again a few weeks ago I knew I was all right."

The worst period was against Green Bay. Michaels missed one field goal, another didn't clear the line of scrimmage and on top of it all he missed an extra point, leaving the score 10-6 in favor of Green Bay with two minutes to play.

But, lo and behold, Michaels executed a perfect short kickoff, a Colt recovered and Baltimore scored the winning touchdown.

"I feel sure if it hadn't been for that onside kick they'd have run me out of the stadium," Michaels said.

One of three he kicked the next week against Dallas traveled on a line 53 yards, only three less than the National Football League record set by Bert Reichichar when he was a Colt.

"All I hope now is that I'm just as big a week from today as I am now," said the 10-year veteran. "The game we've got coming up against the Rams will be the biggest one I've ever partcipated in, believe me."

The Colts need a tie or victory Sunday—even though they haven't lost a game—to take the Coastal Division title from the Rams.

All-American Homan, Byrd, Pipes In Senior

Alabama end Dennis Homan, the crack pass catcher, and rugged Tennessee center Bob Johnson are from the All-America first team on offense; linemen Dennis Byrd of North Caroline State and Greg Pipes of Baylor are from the first team defensive array.

Five other South squadsmen made the All-America second team.

Thy are Florida State's quarterback Kim Hammand, who ranked second in the nation in total offense; Clemson lineman Harry Olszewski; Tennessee lineman John Boynton; and linebackers Fred Carr of Texas-El Paso and D. D. Lewis of Mississippi State.

Carr, at 6-5 and 232 pounds, will be the biggest linebacker ever to play in the Senior Bowl.

Dividing the signal calling duties with Hammond will be Dewey Warren, who guided Tennessee to the Southeastern Conference championship. The two passed for a total of more than 3,000 yards this season.

Homan, Auburn's Freddie Hyatt, Vanderbilt's Bob Goodridge and Virginia Tech's Ken Barefoot will be the chief targets for Hammond and Warren. The four totaled 193 pass receptions in 1967.

Running backs are Ronnie Jenkins of Georgia, Jim Hagle of Southern Methodist and Bobby Dutton of Tulane.

Offensive linemen who will work with the 223-pound Boynton and 240-pound Olszewski are Maurice Moorman of Texas A&M, 241 pounds, and Ernie Ruple of Arkansas, 250 pounds. Auburn center Forrest Blue will share duties with Johnson.

Defensive linemen include Dan Sartin of Mississippi and Marvin Upshaw of Trinity University. Jimmy Keyes of Mississippi and Tommy Roussel of Southern Mississippi will help man the linebacking posts.

Hank Stram of Kansas City's Chiefs will coach the South squad and Mike Holovak of the Boston Patriots will direct the North. The North squad will be announced later this week.

The players turn professional in the game. Each member of the winning squad is paid $1,000 and losers receive $750 each. The South leads in the series 11-6-1.

Gibson, Lahar Latest Coaches To Step Down

By The Associated Press

It's that time of year again: the return of basketball and the departure of college football coaches.

The latest to leave are Hal Lahar of Colgate and Bowling Green's Bob Gibson, who resigned with the most original reason within memory.

"My reason for resigning is unbelievably simple," he said. "I no longer want the job."

Gibson made it a pretty good job in his three years at the helm of the Falcons. He had a 19-9 record after being an assistant for nine years.

Gibson, 49, who plans to remain as an assistant professor of health and physical education, is the third Mid-American Conference coach to leave in the last two months.

Charlie Snyder of Marshall was fired near the end of the season and Leo Strang of Kent State resigned.

Lahar, 47, reigned to devote full time to his job as athletic director. Neil Wheelwright, 35, his chief assistant, replaced him.

Lahar had a 53-40-8 record in his tenure since 1953, not including a brief stay at Houston. His team nosedived to 2-8 this season after an 8-1-1 mark in 1966.

Wheelwright came to Colgate in 1962 from Hofstra, where he was an assistant.

Fired Coach Named To Post On Faculty

Marshall President Stewart H. Smith announced the appointment Friday.

Snyder, who was fired as football coach Nov. 14, will succeed James R. Vander Lind, who is resigning to pursue graduate work.

Smith also announced that A. Mervin Tyson, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at Marshall, will become vice president of academic affairs next Feb. 1.

The Bucs played 16 extra inning games in 1967 and had an 11-5 record.

Wolman Struggles For Eagles

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Will the real owner of the Philadelphia Eagles' football team please stand up

For the next day or so at least, financially-troubled builder-sportsman Jerry Wolman is the owner of the National Football League franchise — on paper and in practice.

But when the 40-year-old Wolman signs a $14.5 million deal probably Wednesday — with a group headed by Norman S. Raab, a clothing manufacturer, he is expected to become a mere figurehead.

Technically, he won't be selling the Eagles. He'll be attempting to borrow his way out of a financial crisis in other business interests brought on by "a tight money market," according to Wolman.

Of the $14.5 million, $2.5 million will be the actual sale of some 30 per cent of club stock. The rest will be as a three-year loan secured by the balance of the Eagles' stock.

Wolman remains listed as club president and majority stockholder in NFL records in New York, but until the loan is repaid, effective control will pass to the Raab interests.

This, said one close to Wolman, is what made the deal attractive to the Raab group. Raab and his brother, Max — who tried to buy an American Football League franchise for Philadelphia several years ago —figure they have nothing to lose.

They want a team and the worse that could happen to them is to wind up with 30 per cent of the Eagles and a financially-healthy majority stockholder in Wolman. If Wolman fails, they would get the whole ball of wax.

Southern Tops United In 8th Grade Contest

The Southern Local eighth grade basketball team evened its record at 1-1 with a 51-31 win over United at Southern yesterday.

Westgate Wallops Chester

Randy McVay led Don Rogers' team with 16 points and Joe March added 14. It was discovered that March, who scored 32 points last week, broke Bill Montgomery's school record of 26 with that effort. Ricky Aaron led Chester with nine.

In the eighth grade game Westgate won 32-10 as John Connell scored 10. Westgate is at Steubenville on Thursday.

10 Players Added For Blue-Gray

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Ten more players have been added to the North and South squads for the annual Blue-Gray football game, including three Carolina State and two from from Missouri, three from North Carolina State and two from Michigan State.

Also represented in Monday's choices for the Dec. 30 tilt in Montgomery were Virginia Tech and Southern Mississippi.

Don Faurot, who just retired as athletic director at Missouri, has put on fullback Barry Lischner, defensive end Russell Washington and defensive tackle Lee Mungai from his own team to play for the North.

The Michigan State players added for the North were offensive linemen Joe Przybcki and Mitchell Pruiett. Przybcki, at 245 pounds, was an honorable mention All-America.

Clemente Officially Bat Champ

CINCINNATI (AP) — You've still got to hit singles—and a lot of them—if you want to win the National League's batting championships.

The league's official 1967 batting records bear this out. Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates won the crown for the fourth time with a .357 batting average. His "singles average" was a lot higher than that—.713.

Clemente went to bat 585 times to accumulate the best hitting average of his 13-year major league career. He collected a total of 209 hits and drove in 110 runs—second only to Orlando Cepeda's 111 Clemente's hits included 150 singles, 26 doubles, 10 triples and 23 home runs.

In fact, only one of the top six batters came up with a "singles average" of less than .700, and home run king Henry Aaron of the Atlanta Braves, who hit 39 homers and 105 singles, wound up in a seventh-place tie with Richie Allen of Philadelphia. Both batted .307 for the season.

The top six batters, with their batting averages and "singles averages" (in parentheses) were:

Roberto Clemente, Pittsburgh, .357 (.713); Tony Gonzalez, Philadelphia, .339 (.744); Matty Alou, Pittsburgh, .338 (.839); Curt Flood, St. Louis, .335 (.825); Rusty Staub, .333 (.709) and Orlando Cepeda, St. Louis, .325 (.661).

Aaron, with his 39 home runs, still accumulated a "singles average" of .570 and drove in 109 runs for third place in that department. It was his fourth home run crown.

The Atlanta outfielder also tied Lou Brock of St. Louis for the most runs scored with 113. None came near Brock's total of 52 stolen bases—or the 18 times he was caught stealing.

Maury Wills of the Pirates hit more singles than anybody else —162—and tied the league record by leading in that category four times. His final batting average of .302 put him in a tie for ninth place and his "singles average" was .871.

Lauterbur Top Coach

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Toledo's Frank X. Lauterbur was an overwhelming choice as Ohio College Football Coach of the Year for 1967. He guided the Rockets to their best season ever in 50 years of football at the school.

Toledo lost its opening game to Ohio University, 20-14, but then clicked off nine straight victories for a 9-1-0 mark. Toledo and Ohio U. wound up as cochampions of the Mid-American Conference.

"I am extremely humble and grateful to my fellow coaches who voted me this honor," said the 41-year-old Lauterbur, who also is athletic director at Toledo.

Results of the 16th annual poll conducted by the Columbus Dispatch were announced Sunday. Lauterbur received 23 first place votes from the 34 coaches who voted in the poll.

Voting was on a 3-2-1 basis, and Lauterbur piled up 79 points to 47 for runner-up Jack Fouts of Ohio Wesleyan and 35 for Fred Martinelli of Ashland College. Wesleyan and Ashland both finished with 8-0-1 records and were the only unbeaten clubs in Ohio.

A native of Cincinnati, Lauterbur joined the Toledo staff in 1963 and a few months later was appointed athletic director. He has degrees from Mount Union and Kent State.

Dave Davis Top Bowler

The 6-2, 145-pounder defeated Pete Tountas of Tucson, Ariz., 216-191, in the championship match which climaxed 162 games in the week-long grind that closed the PBA's 1967 tour.

Mike Limongello of N. Babylon, N. Y. was third and Bud Horn of Los Angeles finished fourth.

The $10,000 first place check which Davis won raised his earnings for the year to $54,115, which was $605 short of the record $54,720 set last year by Wayne Zahn of Atlanta.

But Davis did set two new records. This was his sixth tournament victory this year, which broke Dick Weber's mark of five set in 1961. And it was the first time in the history of the PBA that one man has won the national championship twice. The 25-year-older won his first national in 1965.

Not The Gold At Ft. Knox

Faith, Strong Economy Strength Behind Dollar

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The good faith of the government and the strongest economy in the world—not the gold at Ft. Knox, Ky.—is the real strength behind the U.S. dollar.

That's why government officials see no technical problem in eliminating the last domestic link between gold and dollars—the 25 per cent gold cover. The only obstacles are political and psychological, they feel.

Next year, the Treasury Department is expected to ask Congress to remove the requirement that each $1 placed in circulation must be backed by 25 cents in gold.

This will free more than $10 billion in gold for possible sales to foreign countries and reinforce U.S. policy to buy and sell gold at $35 an ounce—a policy officials say has made the dollar as good as gold.

The decline in U.S. gold stocks since 1949—from $24.56 billion to less than $13 billion—has increased pressure on the gold cover. The available gold is now 28.5 per cent of the paper money in circulation.

Government and many private economists contend the gold cover idea is archaic—a throwback to the era of hard money when a dollar could be exchanged for gold.

Republican leaders have already taken aim at the expected bid to remove the gold cover but their major criticism is of administration financial policy.

"Eight years of deficits and responsible spending have brought the nation to the brink of financial crisis," the Republican Coordinating Committee said Monday.

"We deplore that the Johnson administration may soon find it necessary to request removal of the remaining gold backing behind our currency, now 25 per cent, thus turning it wholly into paper money," the committee statement said.

It's been more than 30 years since Americans could hold gold in other than jewelry, tooth fillings or other industrial or artistic purpose.

Many people, Treasury officials have said, still don't realize that since 1934 U.S. citizens have been forbidden to hoard gold. Only foreign central banks —the counterpart of the Federal Reserve System—have the privilege of exchanging dollars for gold.

Of the free world's major countries, only Switzerland, Belgium, the Netherlands and South Africa have such a link. Even France, where the fondness for gold is beyond question, has none backing the franc.

The Federal Reserve Board backs every dollar placed in circulation 100 per cent. What's not covered by gold is backed by government securities held by the system.

The gold cover was dropped to 25 per cent in 1945 on both currency and bank reserves. It had been 40 per cent on currency and 45 per cent on reserves. It was eliminated entirely on bank reserves in 1965 and some members of Congress at the time felt the cover should be eliminated entirely.

Youth Sought For Thefts At 2 Churches

About 4 p. m., the youth allegedly entered the Assembly of God Church at 740 Beaver Ave. and was surprised by a member in the church at the time. The youth asked to see the minister and was told he was not present.

He said he had just moved to town, wanted to join the church and had to talk to the minister because of several problems. He also asked if he could remain, and was told to wait.

The member left and later became suspicious and returned to the building. The door was found locked. About 15 minutes later the youth was seen leaving by a fire exit.

A check was made and it was found money was missing from the church "Birthday Bank." The basement had been ransacked. The youth apparently attempted to batter the door knob from the parsonage, but did not gain entry.

At 6 p. m. the First Baptist Church at 5th St. and Penn Ave. was entered. A group of people was in the church at the time. Deacon Ralph Pope notified Midland police later in the evening and said soft drinks were taken from the church.

Witnesses gave the same description of the suspect—about 16, about 5-10, neat in appearance and mannerly.

Sidewalk-Clearing Project Discussed

The possibility of organizing a youth department to help the needy or aged keep sidewalks clear in winter weather was discussed when the 300 Block Club of the Midland Community Action Committee met Monday night with Mrs. Lottie Green 344 Penn Ave., Midland.

The next meeting will be Jan. 9 at 8 p. m. with Mrs. Esther Thompson of 317 Penn Ave.

Rev. Harper Heads Group

The Rev. William Harper, pastor of the Bethel United Presbyterian Church near Highlandtown, has been elected president of the Wellsville Ministerial Association.

Others named were the Rev. David Atkinson of the Irondale Methodist Church, secretary, and the Rev. James Sanko of the Wellsville Riverside United Presbyterian Church, treasurer.

The Rev. Robert Schondelmayer of the Wellsville Christian Church has been appointed a delegate to the Ohio pastors' convocation in Columbus Jan. 29-31.

Testimony Heard In $500 Action

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury is hearing testimony in a lawsuit in which both parties charge each other with breach of contract.

Jerry Kirven of East Rochester RD 1 filed the action against Raymond Scott of Minerva RD 2, asking for the recovery of $500.

Kirven said he entered into an oral contract with Scott Oct. 18, 1965, to buy certain real estate in Bayard for $5,500 for $500 down and the balance on delivery of the deed. Kirven said Scott agreed to return the down payment if the plaintiff was unable to obtain proper financing for the balance.

Kirven said he could not obtain satisfactory financing and Scott has refused to return the $500.

Scott filed a crosspetition asking for $10,000. He said he relied on Kirven's promise to buy the Bayard property, bought a tract of land in Stark County and contracted with Albee Ohio Homes, Inc., to erect a home.

Heart Patient Continues His Fine Progress

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Louis Washkansky, in his 10th day with a young woman's heart beating better than his own used to, continued today to make excellent progress, his doctors said.

A bulletin from Groote Schuur Hospital said his condition is satisfactory and he would probably be allowed to sit up for the first time since his badly fibrosed heart was removed Dec. 3 and replaced with that of a young woman killed in an auto accident.

The 55-year-old wholesale grocer's sense of humor, which seems to run to the macabre, now has gotten around to Dracula. One of his nurses said when the doctor comes to take a blood sample, the patient usually quips: "Here comes Dracula."

Industry Area Events

Mrs. Pat Nuzzo 643-4508

A Christmas party next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Fellowship Hall will be the final meeting of the year of the Lutheran Christian Women's organization of the Ohio View Evangelical Lutheran Church in Industry.

Mrs. C. Lloyd Deffenbaugh will present a program on "The Symbols of Christmas." Mrs. Lee Albacker, Maxine Anderson, Pamela McGlenon and Stephanie Golding will participate in the musical phase.

Women of the congregation who desire to join the LCW are invited to attend the meeting. New members will be recognized. A "white elephant" gift exchange will be featured. Members may ask a guest to attend. A gelatine dessert and gifts for a needy family are to be brought to this meeting.

The second candle of the advent wreath was lighted by acolyte Lane Eshenbaugh during the 11 a.m. service at the church Sunday. Members of the congregation received leaflets on the "New Manifesto" adopted by the Lutheran Church in America in 1966.

The Adult Fellowship class, meeting next Sunday at 9:30 a.m., will discuss "How are Men to be Saved?" Visitations of the sick and hospitalized this week, will be conducted by Mrs. Peck and Mrs. Lawrence Kirkpatrick.

* * *

The annual Children's Sunday Church School Christmas program will be held Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the Lutheran Church.

Christmas hymns and choral readings will be presented at intervals during the program, interspersed by class presentations.

The Rev. Oscar L. Arnal, pastor, will offer prayer and benediction. Mrs. Robert Preston will be organist. Ushers will be fifth and sixth graders.

Prior to the program, the youngsters will bring gifts of food to the altar for a needy family.

Grades and teachers participating in the event will be: Grades 5 and 6, Zona Marie Kirkpatrick; grades 3 and 4, Mrs. Homer Paul; 1st and 2nd, Mrs. Robert Cowan and Mrs. Joseph Fiediga, and nursery and kindergarten, Mrs. Helen Graham and Mrs. John Waddell.

Cowan, Sunday school superintendent in charge of arrangements, invites parents, friends and the public to attend.

* * *

Folk songs were played by a guitar quartet comprised of Dean and Kerry Eshenbaugh, Darcy Marsha Preston and Kathy Duck at the meeting Sunday of the Senior and Junior Luther Leagues of the Lutheran Church.

The meeting was held in Fellowship Hall, with Eshenbaugh presiding.

The groups made plans to go caroling Saturday, Dec. 23 at 6:30 p.m. in the Midland and Industry areas, under the supervision of Rev. Arnal. On Saturday at 9:30 a.m., the leagues will decorate the church Christmas tree and the nave.

The choirs of the leagues will meet this Thursday from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the church to rehearse for the league's Christmas Eve service at 8.

The Scripture and Sermon Committee met Saturday in the church hall and selected Richard Kirkpatrick, Cindy Safford and Kerry Eshenbaugh to read the Scriptures during the Christmas service. Michael George was named to read the prayers.

The leagues will combine for the next meeting Sunday at 6:30 p.m. in the Spencer House. A program on, "Flying Saucers" will be presented by Lane Eshenbaugh and Richard Kirkpatrick. Dean Eshenbaugh and Randy Dodds will arrange for refreshments.

Adult advisers were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stephens and Rev. Arnal. Refreshments were served by Diana Cowan, Terry Black, Tom Jameson and Jack Henderson.

$12,009 Needed For Seals' Goal

LISBON — The Columbiana County Public Health League is within $12,009 of its $32,500 goal in the 1967 Christmas Seal sale.

Not The Gold At Ft. Knox

Faith, Strong Economy Strength Behind Dollar

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The good faith of the government and the strongest economy in the world—not the gold at Ft. Knox, Ky.—is the real strength behind the U.S. dollar.

That's why government officials see no technical problem in eliminating the last domestic link between gold and dollars—the 25 per cent gold cover. The only obstacles are political and psychological, they feel.

Next year, the Treasury Department is expected to ask Congress to remove the requirement that each $1 placed in circulation must be backed by 25 cents in gold.

This will free more than $10 billion in gold for possible sales to foreign countries and reinforce U.S. policy to buy and sell gold at $35 an ounce—a policy officials say has made the dollar as good as gold.

The decline in U.S. gold stocks since 1949—from $24.56 billion to less than $13 billion—has increased pressure on the gold cover. The available gold is now 28.5 per cent of the paper money in circulation.

Government and many private economists contend the gold cover idea is archaic—a throwback to the era of hard money when a dollar could be exchanged for gold.

Despite the gold cover, dollar bills cannot now be exchanged for gold, even at the rate of 25 cents to the dollar.

Republican leaders have already taken aim at the expected bid to remove the gold cover but their major criticism is of administration financial policy.

"Eight years of deficits and responsible spending have brought the nation to the brink of financial crisis," the Republican Coordinating Committee said Monday.

"We deplore that the Johnson administration may soon find it necessary to request removal of the remaining gold backing behind our currency, now 25 per cent, thus turning it wholly into paper money," the committee statement said.

It's been more than 30 years since Americans could hold gold in other than jewelry, tooth fillings or other industrial or artistic purpose.

Many people, Treasury officials have said, still don't realize that since 1934 U.S. citizens have been forbidden to hoard gold. Only foreign central banks—the counterpart of the Federal Reserve System—have the privilege of exchanging dollars for gold.

The United States is one of the few remaining industrial countries still linking its currency to gold internally.

Of the free world's major countries, only Switzerland, Belgium, the Netherlands and South Africa have such a link. Even France, where the fondness for gold is beyond question, has none backing the franc.

The Federal Reserve Board backs every dollar placed in circulation 100 per cent. What's not covered by gold is backed by government securities held by the system.

This places the good faith of the government and its taxing powers behind each dollar bill in circulation.

Since the Federal Reserve now holds more government securities than paper money in circulation they could become a possible substitute for a gold cover.

The gold cover was dropped to 25 per cent in 1945 on both currency and bank reserves. It had been 40 per cent on currency and 45 per cent on reserves. It was eliminated entirely on bank reserves in 1965 and some members of Congress at the time felt the cover should be eliminated entirely.

Industry Area Events

Mrs. Pat Nuzzo 643-4508

A Christmas party next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Fellowship Hall will be the final meeting of the year of the Lutheran Christian Women's organization of the Ohio View Evangelical Lutheran Church in Industry.

Mrs. C. Lloyd Deffenbaugh will present a program on "The Symbols of Christmas." Mrs. Lee Albacker, Maxine Anderson, Pamela McGlenon and Stephanie Golding will participate in the musical phase.

Women of the congregation who desire to join the LCW are invited to attend the meeting. New members will be recognized. A "white elephant" gift exchange will be featured. Members may ask a guest to attend. A gelatine dessert and gifts for a needy family are to be brought to this meeting.

Officers for 1968 will be re-elected during a brief business session conducted by Mrs. Jack M. Peck.

The second candle of the advent wreath was lighted by acolyte Lane Eshenbaugh during the 11 a.m. service at the church Sunday. Members of the congregation received leaflets on the "New Manifesto" adopted by the Lutheran Church in America in 1966.

The Adult Fellowship class, meeting next Sunday at 9:30 a.m., will discuss "How are Men to be Saved?" Visitations of the sick and hospitalized this week, will be conducted by Mrs. Peck and Mrs. Lawrence Kirkpatrick.

⋇ ⋇ ⋇

The annual Children's Sunday Church School Christmas program will be held Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the Lutheran Church.

Christmas hymns and choral readings will be presented at intervals during the program, interspersed by class presentations.

The Rev. Oscar L. Arnal, pastor, will offer prayer and benediction. Mrs. Robert Preston will be organist. Ushers will be fifth and sixth graders.

Prior to the program, the youngsters will bring gifts of food to the altar for a needy family.

Grades and teachers participating in the event will be: Grades 5 and 6, Zona Marie Kirkpatrick; grades 3 and 4, Mrs. Homer Paul; 1st and 2nd, Mrs. Robert Cowan and Mrs. Joseph Fiediga, and nursery and kindergarten, Mrs. Helen Graham and Mrs. John Waddell.

Cowan, Sunday school superintendent in charge of arrangements, invites parents, friends and the public to attend.

⋇ ⋇ ⋇

Folk songs were played by a guitar quartet comprised of Dean and Kerry Eshenbaugh, Darcy Marsha Preston and Kathy Duck at the meeting Sunday of the Senior and Junior Luther Leagues of the Lutheran Church.

The meeting was held in Fellowship Hall, with Eshenbaugh presiding.

The groups made plans to go caroling Saturday, Dec. 23 at 6:30 p.m. in the Midland and Industry areas, under the supervision of Rev. Arnal. On Saturday at 9:30 a.m., the leagues will decorate the church Christmas tree and the nave.

The choirs of the leagues will meet this Thursday from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the church to rehearse for the league's Christmas Eve service at 8.

The Scripture and Sermon Committee met Saturday in the church hall and selected Richard Kirkpatrick, Cindy Safford and Kerry Eshenbaugh to read the Scriptures during the Christmas service. Michael George was named to read the prayers.

The leagues will combine for the next meeting Sunday at 6:30 p.m. in the Spencer House. A program on, "Flying Saucers" will be presented by Lane Eshenbaugh and Richard Kirkpatrick. Dean Eshenbaugh and Randy Dodds will arrange for refreshments.

Adult advisers were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stephens and Rev. Arnal. Refreshments were served by Diana Cowan, Terry Black, Tom Jameson and Jack Henderson.

Rev. Harper Heads Group

The Rev. William Harper, pastor of the Bethel United Presbyterian Church near Highlandtown, has been elected president of the Wellsville Ministerial Association.

Others named were the Rev. David Atkinson of the Irondale Methodist Church, secretary, and the Rev. James Sanko of the Wellsville Riverside United Presbyterian Church, treasurer.

The Rev. Robert Schondelmayer of the Wellsville Christian Church has been appointed a delegate to the Ohio pastors' convocation in Columbus Jan. 29-31.

Testimony Heard In $500 Action

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury is hearing testimony in a lawsuit in which both parties charge each other with breach of contract.

Jerry Kirven of East Rochester RD 1 filed the action against Raymond Scott of Minerva RD 2, asking for the recovery of $500.

Kirven said he entered into an oral contract with Scott Oct. 18, 1965, to buy certain real estate in Bayard for $5,500 for $500 down and the balance on delivery of the deed. Kirven said Scott agreed to return the down payment if the plaintiff was unable to obtain proper financing for the balance.

Kirven said he could not obtain satisfactory financing and Scott has refused to return the $500.

Scott filed a crosspetition asking for $10,000. He said he relied on Kirven's promise to buy the Bayard property, bought a tract of land in Stark County and contracted with Albee Ohio Homes, Inc., to erect a home.

Heart Patient Continues His Fine Progress

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Louis Washkansky, in his 10th day with a young woman's heart beating better than his own used to, continued today to make excellent progress, his doctors said.

A bulletin from Groote Schuur Hospital said his condition is satisfactory and he would probably be allowed to sit up for the first time since his badly fibrosed heart was removed Dec. 3 and replaced with that of a young woman killed in an auto accident.

The 55-year-old wholesale grocer's sense of humor, which seems to run to the macabre, now has gotten around to Dracula. One of his nurses said when the doctor comes to take a blood sample, the patient usually quips: "Here comes Dracula."

Youth Sought For Thefts At 2 Churches

A blonde, curly - haired youth wearing a maroon jacket still was being sought by Midland police today in connection with petty thefts at two Midland churches late Saturday afternoon.

About 4 p. m., the youth allegedly entered the Assembly of God Church at 740 Beaver Ave. and was surprised by a member in the church at the time. The youth asked to see the minister and was told he was not present.

He said he had just moved to town, wanted to join the church and had to talk to the minister because of several problems. He also asked if he could remain, and was told to wait.

The member left and later became suspicious and returned to the building. The door was found locked. About 15 minutes later the youth was seen leaving by a fire exit.

A check was made and it was found money was missing from the church "Birthday Bank." The basement had been ransacked. The youth apparently attempted to batter the door knob from the parsonage, but did not gain entry.

At 6 p. m. the First Baptist Church at 5th St. and Penn Ave. was entered. A group of people was in the church at the time. Deacon Ralph Pope notified Midland police later in the evening and said soft drinks were taken from the church.

Witnesses gave the same description of the suspect—about 16, about 5-10, neat in appearance and mannerly.

Sidewalk-Clearing Project Discussed

The possibility of organizing a youth department to help the needy or aged keep sidewalks clear in winter weather was discussed when the 300 Block Club of the Midland Community Action Committee met Monday night with Mrs. Lottie Green 344 Penn Ave., Midland.

The next meeting will be Jan. 9 at 8 p. m. with Mrs. Esther Thompson of 317 Penn Ave.

This is really an outstanding kitchen and it is something to behold. 2nd floor: 2 large bedrooms and bath, full cemented basement, gas furnace, new hot water tank, gas incinerator, new wiring, new plumbing, large front and side porch, 2 car garage, lot 50 x 154. Extras included: new 5 piece dinette set, 23 inch TV, and all wall to wall carpeting. You must see the inside of this home to appreciate that it's a steal at $10,900.

304 High St., Salineville. 2 story home, first floor: large living room, family room with a brick fireplace, dining room and kitchen. 2nd floor: 3 large bedrooms and bath, cemented basement, brand new gas fired hot water heating system. Large porch, lot 60 x 50. In anybody's language it's a steal at $5,000.

Near Highlandtown Lake. Modern 1½ story home, large living room, dining room, modern kitchen with built in range and oven, plenty of birch cabinets, and modern bath. 2nd floor: 3 bedrooms. Basement, new oil furnace, new front porch, new 2 car garage, plus 4.31 acres lot with 992 ft. of road frontage. $8,000.

Black's Rd., Lisbon, Ohio. Two story home, first floor: entrance hall, living room with wall to wall carpeting, and a large mural on one wall, nice kitchen with new cabinet sink and disposal. Large family room finished in rich looking paneling, and built in bookcases. Utility room and modern tiled bath. 2nd floor: 3 large bedrooms (one bedroom finished in cherry paneling). Large cedar lined clothes press in master bedroom. Full cemented basement, gas furnace, lot 50 x 100. One car garage and a lawn equipment building. All carpeting, drapes and gas incinerator included. $9,950.

Corner 5th & Washington St., Bergholz. 2 story brick home, 1st floor: large living room with a gorgeous marble fireplace. Family room, kitchen with a huge stone fireplace, pantry, an enclosed back porch and a large front porch. Hardwood floors: 2nd floor: 4 large bedrooms, and a modern tiled bath. Cemented basement, new coal furnace, 2 car garage and a 2 room summer house. 1.351 acres of nice laying land. This home still has its original splendor. $9,900.

Maple Hill, Salineville. 57 acre farm with a nice 7 room and bath home on it. Full cemented basement, coal furnace, one car garage, large barn and 2 poultry houses. The home is in good repair and the land is as level with about 17 acres in the city limits. This is priced right at $12,600.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, Dec. 12, the 346th day of 1967. There are 19 days left in the year.

On this date:

In 1642, New Zealand was discovered by the Dutch navigator, Abel Tasman.

In 1745, the first U.S. Chief justice, John Jay, was born.

Dieppe during the Franco-Prus-

In 1894, Japanese troops invaded Korea.

A Junior Editors Quiz About TELEPHONES

QUESTION: How does a telephone work?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: When Mary (1) speaks into the telephone to her friend Marcia, her voice makes suond waves in the air. In the telephone transmitter, there is a kind of drum, the diaphragm (2). The sound waves make this vibrate, the vibration being carried through grains of carbon through which an electric current is also passing. Different pressures on the carbon grains cause electric impulses of different strength. To put it simply, the sound virbrations of Mary's voice have changed into electric signals. These travel over the telephone wire from Mary's to Marcia's house (3), (4). There is a magnet in the receiver Marcia is holding at her ear (5), connected with another diaphragm. Through the action of the magnet, the electric signals cause this second diaphragm to vibrate. This causes sound waves which go into Marcia's ear and allow her to hear Mary's voice (6).

Lloyd Reynolds of Pueblo, Colo., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash if your question, mailed to Junior Editors in care of The Review, is selected for a prize.

Ten years ago: The Soviet Union called on all U.N. members to support what was called the Soviet program of peaceful coexistence.

A Junior Editors Quiz About TELEPHONES

QUESTION: How does a telephone work?

ANSWER: When Mary (1) speaks into the telephone to her friend Marcia, her voice makes suond waves in the air. In the telephone transmitter, there is a kind of drum, the diaphragm (2). The sound waves make this vibrate, the vibration being carried through grains of carbon through which an electric current is also passing. Different pressures on the carbon grains cause electric impulses of different strength. To put it simply, the sound virbrations of Mary's voice have changed into electric signals. These travel over the telephone wire from Mary's to Marcia's house (3), (4). There is a magnet in the receiver Marcia is holding at her ear (5), connected with another diaphragm. Through the action of the magnet, the electric signals cause this second diaphragm to vibrate. This causes sound waves which go into Marcia's ear and allow her to hear Mary's voice (6).

For Urban Planning

U.S. Action Due On Lisbon Funds

LISBON — The community's application for urban planning assistance funds, made two years ago, is now before the Department of Housing and Urban Development in Chicago.

Council voted to apply for federal funds and put up $1,500, or one - half the community's share, toward a comprehensive plan tied into county planning.

The understanding was that HUD would obtain approximately $38,000 in federal money toward the cost of the plan to be prepared by Carroll Hill Associates of Columbus.

THE OHIO development department advised Council shortly after the application that no federal funds were available at the time.

However, Mayor Dean Stockman Monday night read to Council a letter from Christian John Hogenbirk, assistant director of planning for the development department, who said Lisbon's application was submitted to the federal agency Dec. 1.

Hogenbirk said he does not know how long it will take to process the application, but speculated on approximately two months.

Stockman said a comprehensive plan, completed or in preparation, is a requirement for any community seeking federal help on projects. Lisbon applied when Council was engaged in talks with the Columbiana Metropolitan Housing Authority.

COUNCIL voted to employ Dean Rose, local contractor, to remove three dead elm trees on village land next to the James Pezzano Jr. property on Summit St. for $200.

Solicitor Joseph Baronzzi suggested that Council consider having local elms sprayed against Dutch elm disease. He mentioned in particular the giant elm at the front of the Courthouse. Council asked him to get prices on spraying.

On recommendation of Council's fire committee and at the request of firemen, Council approved the application of Donald Coleman, service station operator, for membership in the volunteer fire department.

Thirl Flugan, acting fire chief, attended to ask Council to investigate the maintenance system it set up for Fire Department vehicles about two years ago. The chief said it is not satisfactory. The mayor directed the fire committee to meet with the firemen.

The next meeting Dec. 28 will be the last for the mayor and three council members — Mrs. Blanche Neill and Robert Kelm, who did not seek re-election, and Clyde J. Pike, Council president, who was elected mayor.
